FATE BRINGS RIGHT HELP TO DROWNING BOY

Neighbor Pulls Him From Pool, Navy Veteran Revives Him

CHILD RECOVERS QUICKLY AFTER EXPERT ATTENTION

By FRED C. SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Fate provided exactly the kind of help needed in a hurry yesterday morning by a 4-year-old Pottstown area boy who had fallen into a deep, ice-skimmed pool when one was with him except a younger brother and a younger sister.

The 4-year-old, Robert Moses, Pine Forge, Boyertown RD 2, was pulled from the water by a woman who just happened to be looking outside and who just happened to have courage enough to jump into the icy water to save him.

Blue with cold and with his lungs full of water, the half-drowned child was given expert artificial resuscitation by a Pottstown hunter who just happened to be coming over a nearby hill and who just happened to be a Navy veteran with life-saving training.

The neighbor was Mrs. E. Linwood Drumheller. The

HUNTING SEASON IS EXTENDED BY COMMISSIONERS

Six - Day Addition Will Make Up for Delay Caused by Drought

Pottstown hunters got another six days of hunting when the State Game commission set a special small game hunting season for Dec. 22 to 27 yesterday.

The special season is to compensate hunters partially for the ten days lost by the belated opening of the season. The decision was reached yesterday by the commission after the State Justice department ruled an extension of the regular season is legal.

The regular season for rabbits, squirrels, pheasants and grouse will end as scheduled, Nov. 29. The special season will begin 7 a. m., Dec. 22, and end at 5 p. m., Dec. 27.

Pottstown area hunters and most of the other 800,000 hunters in Pennsylvania had to wait until Nov. 11 before they could take to the woods and prowls for game. The scheduled opening, Nov. 1, was postponed by Gov. John S. Fine because of the fire hazards in the woodlands caused by drought.

Rain the past weekend remedied the dry woodland condition and the regular season is legal.

Generous GI Gives Chinese a Grenade On Hill in Korea

Pfc. Edward W. McClintock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. McClintock, 722 North Hanover street, handed a Chinese Communist soldier the surprise of his life, the Associated Press reported last night.

The 21-year-old Pottstown infantryman demonstrated the world-famous American generosity by handing the Red soldier a hand grenade, but, the AP said, he'd never have to worry about getting court-martialed for it.

McClintock ran headlong into a surprised Chinese soldier along a hilly path somewhere in Korea, the dispatch said.

"The Chinese was as surprised as I was," McClintock said.

Faster than thinking about it, McClintock pulled the pin from a grenade and held it out to the Communist who took it.

McClintock dived down a slope as the surprised Chinese dropped the grenade which exploded.

McClintock had a story to tell when he returned to his command post. The Chinese didn't.

McCLINTOCK ENLISTED into the Army the past Jan. 24. He previously had worked as a final inspector at the Doehler-Jarvis Die Casting corporation where his father is currently working as a die caster.

A graduate of the Pottstown Senior High school, McClintock took his basic training in the Hawaiian Islands. He was home on his first furlough in August. He reported back to Camp Stoneman, Calif., following his furlough and then went on to Japan and finally to Korea.

According to his mother, McClintock's big ambition, when he

Coming around rapidly after being saved from death by drowning or exposure in an ice-skimmed pool near his home, 4-year-old Robert Moses, Pine Forge, seems to be trying to say with an out-reaching arm what he doesn't have breath to say: "Thanks." He's saying it to 31-year-old William Cook, 80 Warren street, who was out small-game hunting when he heard women's cries for help. He rushed to the pool and revived the water-filled boy with the artificial resuscitation technique he was taught during his three years in the Navy. Minutes after this photograph was taken, the little boy was taken by Good Will ambulance to Pottstown hospital, suffering from shock. His condition last night was "satisfactory."

Young Artists Rewarded for Hallowe'en Paintings

Hallowe'en window painters—the constructive variety—were rewarded yesterday at the Junior High school.

Forty-one participants of the Optimist club's first Hallowe'en window painting project learned there's more satisfaction in purposeful window decorating than in smearing store fronts with candle soap and crayon.

And there's no feeling of guilt after the campaign is over—no elusive avoiding of police.

One hundred and sixty Junior High school pupils worked on borough store windows with gusto during the week of Hallowe'en.

THEY SPENT much more time on their project than the window smears of past years and their rewards were far more gratifying.

Of the 41 prize winners four received wrist watches. Winning teams were given gold and onyx trophies.

Mrs. Mary M. Grofe, Junior High art instructor, supervised all paintings. Optimists provided paint, brushes and personnel to help direct the program.

Judy Noble and Barbara Good teamed to win first prize in the general contest. As a team they received a trophy. In addition each was given a watch.

Jeanne Kaas and Jean Romich received similar prizes for their special first award of a painting on the bicentennial theme.

Optimists presented Mrs. Grofe a gold wrist watch with black velvet band for her contribution to the program.

She reported, "I was very pleased with the project. I think it was a success and I know the Optimists are gratified and expect to continue next year."

OPTIMISTS ATTENDING yesterday's presentation of awards at the afternoon assembly were Elwood R. Angstadt and Stanley L. Jones, co-chairmen of the project, and President Leroy H. Keyser.

Winning second prizes in the general contest were Diane Richard and Joan Smoker. The third prize team was Betty Lou Jones and Barbara Hill.

Miss Kaas and Miss Romich, who won the special bicentennial award, finished fourth in the general contest.

Patsy Garner, a Seventh grader, won fifth place honors.

Honorable mention trophy teams were Robert March and Darrell Arndt, Janet Bressler and Marjorie Hampton, Fred Shutz and Harold McElroy, Eleanor Whalen and Cynthia Xanthopoulos, Charlotte Laubmeier and Mary L. Schaffer.

Also, James Kepner and Michael Cohrac, Willard Schultz and Robert Stolz, Shirley Child.

Municipal Airport Manager Pleads for Hangar Development

By ROBERT E. HOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The virtues of expanded hangar facilities at Pottstown Municipal airport were cited by Manager John Basco last night.

The veteran of World War II and the Korean War reported to council's airport committee his plans to build seven new hangars.

He defended air power and estimated a "bright" future for the air field under the proper planning and administration.

He calmly answered grilling committee members.

Plans for the new hangars, which Basco estimated would cost $15,800, were spread on a table in the burgess' office.

BASCO SAID single hangars would be the only thing practical.

He explained present planes are expensive and owners don't like to crowd their investments into a big open hangar where one plane might scratch against another.

He added the hangar plans are approved by the CAA (Civil Aeronautics authority).

The airport manager pointed out he wouldn't make "too much" money in general's office. Projects affected are those financed with Federal funds. Penn Village is owned and operated by the county authority.

Basco, who has 11 applications for hangar space, estimated he would require custody of hangars for a number of years before he could turn them over to the borough.

Wilbert O'Dell, eighth ward committee chairman, said, "I believe, Mr. Basco, you would want at least a 20-year lease."

2 POLICEMEN COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY

Coroner's Jury Lauds Kissinger, Flannery in Jensen Case

TROOPERS EXONERATED; RID COUNTY OF 'ENEMY'

By ED ZUMACH
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A coroner's jury commended Jeffersonville State Policeman Alfred B. Kissinger and John J. Flannery yesterday for their "bravery and efficiency in ridding the county of a public enemy."

The six-man jury extended its commendation after announcing its finding in the gun battle death of Robert E. Jensen, 25, of Royal Oak, Mich., the past Oct. 18 in Limerick and exonerating the officers of "any criminal responsibility" for Jensen's death.

It took the jury but six minutes to confer in an ante-chamber of Court Room C in Montgomery county court house, Norristown, before disclosing its finding after the hour-long inquest, which began at 1:30 o'clock.

Jury Foreman Roy Smith, Norristown, announced the jury had found that Jensen had died of gunshot wounds of the chest and abdomen involving the aorta, both lungs and the intestines.

Jensen was killed by three of seven bullets fired by Kissinger and Flannery when he opened fire on them without warning as they attempted to arrest him on a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

The gun battle began on the second floor of the home of Joe Thomas, Limerick church and Airport roads, about 4:50 a. m.

KISSINGER WAS wounded seriously in the left lung and Flannery suffered a flesh wound of the right arm in the fight.

Kissinger, released from Memorial hospital Nov. 1 after two weeks of treatment, still is convalescing at the home of a relative in Reading. Flannery returned to duty two weeks ago.

At the time of his death Jensen was wanted by California police on a rape charge, by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid arrest on that charge and by Detroit police for violation of parole.

During the inquest before Coroner Winslow J. Rushong, Corp. Donald C. Bearcraft, of the Jeffersonville State police, testified Jensen had "a very long criminal record" dating

Directive Awaited On 'Subversives'

Montgomery County Housing authority is awaiting a Federal directive to bar "subversives" from Hilldale.

Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary of the county authority, yesterday said, "We still have received no word of barring subversives."

He was referring to a proposed Public Housing administration directive aimed at preventing "subversives" from public housing projects.

Koser previously reported the directive probably would apply to Hilldale but not to Penn Village.

This past Monday the Reading Housing authority said it would ban from projects it operates any member of an organization declared subversive by the US attorney general's office. Projects affected are those financed with Federal funds. Penn Village is owned and operated by the county authority.

Basco, who has 11 applications for hangar space, estimated he would require custody of hangars for a number of years before he could turn them over to the borough.

Wilbert O'Dell, eighth ward committee chairman, said, "I believe, Mr. Basco, you would want at least a 20-year lease."

Jack Frost Does Nice Job of Icing Up Automobile Windows

Many a garageless motorist wished he could find shelter for his car yesterday morning when he awoke and saw what Jack Frost could do to the horseless carriage.

The ice on windshields was so thick that drivers in a hurry to get to work were patient enough only to scrape peepholes.

During the early hours of the morning when the temperature was below freezing, "peepers" leaned close to their windshields to see where they were going. The motorist perhaps should remember that colder temperatures are yet to come.

By arising five minutes earlier in order to clean frosted glass for better vision while driving, the motorist can avoid spending weeks in a hospital.

The freezing temperature was short lived yesterday. At 9 a. m. (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Warwick Township Holds Open House For Parents, Alumni

Warwick township consolidated schools' newly painted auditorium and refitted classrooms were inspected last night by an estimated 150 alumni and parents of pupils during an open house program.

Combined with the exhibition of a modernized home economics room and freshly painted walls was the showing of a sound traveling in color, titled, "With a Young Man in Utah and Idaho."

Leon Spohn, chairman of the program committee, arranged the cinematic program on behalf of the school alumni association, which sponsored it.

The alumni program began at 8 p. m., one hour before the doors were thrown open for inspection of the renovations.

Sedan Wraps Itself Around Tree On Lawn of Chapel; Driver Injured

A thick-trunked tree stood its ground when a 1951 sedan literally wrapped itself around it yesterday at 6:15 p. m. on the lawn of Sanatoga Chapel, Route 422.

The driver of the car, John J. Starabs, Drexel Hill, struck the tree trunk when his vehicle ran off the road while traveling west on the highway. He was admitted later to Memorial hospital where he was treated for a slight concussion, a possible fractured rib and a cut lip.

Starabs reported he does not know how the accident happened.

Chrusch deloured traffic around the wreck while a tow truck from Sanatoga garage pulled the smashed sedan from the lawn. Kenneth L. Buchert, operator of the garage, estimated damages at

WHITE HOUSE GIVES CLUE ON PARLEY TOPICS

Foreign Policy, Defense
And Money Matters
To Dominate Talks

PRESIDENT. EISENHOWER
TO CONFER ALONE FIRST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The White house gave a tip-off today that vital foreign policy, defense, and money matters will dominate next Tuesday's White house talks, between President Truman and President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

This was indicated in the announcement of the key figures who will sit in on the talks after Truman and Eisenhower first meet alone.

On the administration side, the list includes Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Lovett, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Mutual Administrator W. Averell Harriman.

At Eisenhower's side will be Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., of Massachusetts and Detroit Banker Joseph M. Dodge.

LODGE IS already gathering "top secret" information from the Truman Administration in his role as advance scout for Eisenhower. Dodge is busy consulting with budget officials.

Contrary to expectations of some officials, Lodge showed no immediate urgency in getting in touch with the State department. Department officials said tonight that so far Lodge had made no move to communicate with top diplomatic officials there.

After a round of conferences, Lodge refused to tell newsmen whom he had seen.

"These people asked me not to tell," he said. "I'm seeing them in confidence. I can't tell you what I'm doing."

At the White house, acting Press Secretary Roger Tubby disclosed that Truman and Eisenhower will first meet alone in the President's office at 2 p. m. (Pottstown time) next Tuesday.

Dewey Reaffirms He's Not Available For Post in Cabinet

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 14 (AP)—Eisenhower said today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had "emphatically reaffirmed" at a policy conference that he is not available for a cabinet post in the new Republican administration.

Eisenhower said in a statement after a four-hour meeting with Dewey that the New York Governor had agreed, however, to be "available whenever necessary for consultation and advice and for any future work of an emergency or temporary character."

Dewey himself declined to discuss what went on at the conference at Eisenhower's vacation retreat, except to say they had "a very interesting discussion of a great many problems."

The governor had said in advance of the meeting that they would talk over the general's forthcoming trip to Korea.

Dewey also declared before the conference that there was "no possibility" he would take a cabinet post.

Smoke Suffocates Wife, 8 Children

WESTPORT, Mass., Nov. 14 (AP)—Suffocating smoke snuffed out the lives of a millworker's 44-year-old wife and eight of their 10 children early today as fire swept the kitchen of their modest home.

India Working on Resolution Asking For Group to Handle Prisoner Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—India was reported tonight working on a resolution calling for a four-power protective group to handle repatriation of prisoners in Korea. The resolution, to be sponsored by India alone, is expected to be put before the UN formally next week.

India's deputy delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon, has been holding conferences behind the scenes with delegations concerning the resolution that India will present.

Some quarters concerned in the talks said Krishna Menon would wrap up in his resolution the idea of a protective group as outlined by Canadian Delegate Paul Martin in the Assembly's Political committee on Nov. 3.

It is being suggested, diplomatic quarters said, the Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland make up the protective group. They said, however, that such a commission would not be favored by Washington but that some friendly delegations are trying to overcome US objections.

KRISHNA MENON said he refused to confirm or deny the resolution on the protective group. He said it had been discussed by many delegations and that India was exploring all possible methods of

Typhoon Hits Formosa, Kills 67 Chinese

TAIPEH, Formosa, Saturday, Nov. 15 (AP)—A typhoon raging out of the Pacific with winds of 115 miles an hour struck southwest Formosa before dawn Friday, killing at least 67 Chinese and spreading destruction through Nationalist military installations.

Preliminary estimates placed the injured at 530. Almost 1000 homes were destroyed.

No casualties were reported among the US military assistance advisory group or other Americans on Formosa.

Unofficial reports indicated heavy damage to military bases, including the big Naval base at Teying. The extent probably will be cloaked for security reasons.

THE DEFENSE MINISTRY'S supply chief, Sung Ta, flew south by special plane to assess the damage and organize relief.

Air and shipping links with the outside world were temporarily crippled.

Torrential rains disrupted rail traffic on the island's east coast. Washouts and landslides blocked road beds.

Many points in southern Formosa could not be reached by telephone.

PINPOINT HILL WON BACK BY RKO SOLDIERS

Infantrymen Fight Through Night to Take
Crest

SUMMIT RECAPTURED
FOR FIFTEENTH TIME

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday, Nov. 15 (AP)—Indomitable South Korean infantrymen early today won back the crest of Pinpoint hill on the central Korean front for the 15th time.

Front reports said the sturdy Republic of Korea soldiers fought through the night and regained the crest—Pinpoint hill—at dawn. Details were lacking.

The long and bloody fight began at 4 a. m. Friday. It raged through the murky day and pitch black night on the slopes of Pinpoint.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from the front that confused fighting was underway at 10 p. m. The South Koreans were still short of the summit.

THROUGHOUT THE LONG battle Communist field guns and mortars blasted the crest at the rate of more than 1000 rounds an hour. Field dispatches said nearly 25,000 rounds fell in 23 hours.

"The Chinese are shooting at a small, precisely definite ridge line that probably covers less area than two square city blocks," Randolph reported.

Action was light along the rest of the front. A small Red force attacked one Allied advance position near Jackson Heights, north of Choron on the west-central front. Eighth Army troops abandoned the position when the Communists threw in reinforcements.

B-26 light bombers dropped bombs through solid overcast on Red front line positions. Airmen could not see what damage their bombs did. Fog grounded all other 5th Air Force planes.

The South Koreans lost Sniper ridge for the 14th time early Friday when 700 Chinese surged up the hill and overran Allied bunkers. The Republic of Korea (ROK) troops promptly struck back. They forced all but a handful of Reds to quit fighting by 7:30 a. m.

But the Chinese took advantage of a heavy ground fog, reinforced and called in tremendous artillery support.

Normally the whole panorama of battle is clearly visible but the blinding fog reduced the struggle to night time conditions.

Tanker Rams Transport, 5 Soldiers Killed

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 14 (AP)—The sharp bow of a 10,000-ton tanker sliced the skin-thin side of an 1800-ton Navy transport today and killed five soldiers asleep in their bunks.

Six other soldiers were injured, three critically, when the fast attack transport Ruchamkin and the Texas company tanker Washington collided in the dark Atlantic 60 miles east of Cape Henry.

Twenty-four members of the Ruchamkin's crew sustained minor hurts in the collision, which tore a 20-foot hole in the side of the converted destroyer, flooded one engine room and left her dead in the water.

There were no casualties aboard the tanker, which continued to Philadelphia with 15 feet of her bow stove in. Two Navy tugs took the transport in tow and headed for Norfolk.

NAVAL SPOKESMEN said the tanker rammed the little transport's port side amidships. This part of the ship contained the sleeping quarters of the 41-man intelligence and reconnaissance platoon of the 278th Infantry Regimental Combat team from Fort Devens, Mass., a former Tennessee National Guard outfit.

The Ruchamkin was one of 26 Naval vessels engaged in operation Sea Scape, a two-week amphibious warfare training exercise which was to have been concluded today with an assault landing at Virginia Beach.

US Press Criticized By College Professor

BOSTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Harvard law school Prof. Zechariah Chafee Jr. criticized the American press today for publishing what he called "defamatory" statements—made under Congressional immunity—without additional information to aid readers in evaluating the charges.

A noted critic of the press, Prof. Chafee told the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association the fourth estate cannot be proud of: "The constant repetition of defamatory statements about American citizens by newspapers who suspect with good reason that these statements are largely untrue."

Sen. Knowland Is First Candidate For Republican Leader in Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sen. Knowland of California today became the first avowed candidate for the post of Republican leader in the new GOP-controlled Congress which meets in January.

Knowland attached one condition: He said he will seek the job only if Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire decides to give it up. Bridges said yesterday he would accept it, again only to avoid "a rough and tumble fight" among his fellow Republicans.

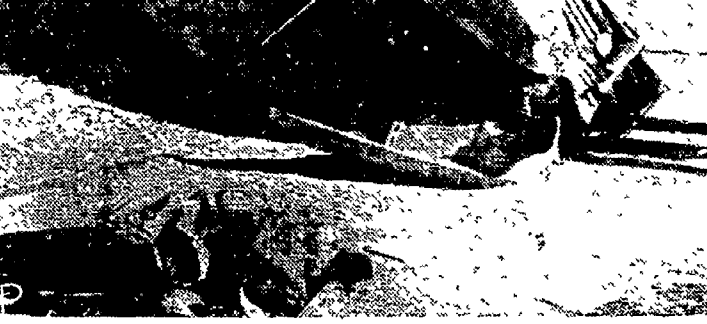

The supposition has been that if a fight develops it would be between Senate groups which before the GOP convention in July supported Dwight D. Eisenhower or Sen. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination.

Knowland was aligned with neither group before the convention, being a supporter of California's Gov. Earl Warren. Bridges professed neutrality.

OTHERS FIGURING in speculation for the majority leadership are Sens. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Dirksen of Illinois, Capehart of Indiana, Ferguson of Michigan and Hickenlooper of Iowa.

Upon the majority leader falls the principal burden of pressing for Senate approval of legislation which the Administration recommends.

Thomas Luchese Called Successor To Costello as Top Boss of Crime

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Wealthy Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, self-avowed crony of political bigshots, was described today as the successor to jailed Frank Costello as the top boss of organized crime.

The description was given before New York's State Crime commission.

Testimony, pictured the stocky, 52-year-old Luchese, an ex-convict, as the country's new "overall co-ordinator of rackets," who rides high in circles of the politically powerful.

Ostensibly a well-to-do garment manufacturer, Luchese, who has homes in Palisades, N. J., and in Queens, admitted in transcribed testimony that he is a friend of underworld figures as well as

Leaders Optimistic About Prosperity

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 14 (AP)—The country's top industrialists think prosperity is assured until mid-1953 or beyond, with prices stable or somewhat lower.

The Business Advisory council, which reports to the secretary of commerce, turned its off-the-record meeting today into an economic seminar. Optimism rang strong in this first post-election session.

Robert T. Stevens, chairman of the council and board chairman of J. P. Stevens and company, New York, world's biggest textile house, summarized for reporters the outlook as given by members in every major field of industry and finance.

"The consensus was that business will be good certainly, through the first half of 1953; beyond that some were not so sure."

Atrocity Kept Secret For Sake of Unity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A former chief of Army intelligence testified today he stamped "top secret" on a report of the Katyn massacre in order to preserve American relations with Russia during World War II.

If the report had leaked out, Maj. Gen. Clayton Bissell told a Congressional investigating committee, it would have caused "worldwide" political repercussions.

The report blamed the Russians for the mass murder of thousands of Polish leaders in the Katyn forest of western Russia early in the war. It was written by Lt. Col. John H. Van Vliet Jr., who was shown the graves after being captured by the Germans.

Bissell said he did not think The Russians accused invading Nazi armies of the slaughter.

Lie, Three Lawyers— Meet on How to Deal With Probe Group

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—UN Secretary General Trygve Lie met today with three noted lawyers to get advice on how to deal with the McCarran committee probe into his employees' possible Red connections.

The four gathered in Lie's 38th floor suite at UN headquarters, just a day after his chief legal aide, Abraham H. Feller, committed suicide by jumping from a 12th floor window in his home. Lie blamed Feller's death on the strain of countering "indiscriminate sneers and exaggerated charges" by the US Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Pat McCarran (D-New).

The three lawyers are William DeWitt Mitchell of New York, US attorney general under President Truman, and chief counsel of the but no decision has been reached. Congressional committee which Price officials said they expect to deliver into the Pearl Harbor disaster; Sir Edwin Herbert of Britain, wartime director of postal and telegraph censorship; and Prof. Paul Veldekens of Belgium, a former member of that country's Supreme Court bar.

HE SAID he has been a pal since childhood of Gambler Costello, imprisoned in Atlanta's Federal penitentiary several months ago for contempt of the US Senate Crime committee.

George White, New England supervisor for the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, said he had information from an underworld source that Luchese had "replaced Costello" as the kingpin of rackets.

The informant, identified as Eugene Giannini, a narcotics violator, was shot to death in gangland style two months ago. His body was found in a Harlem street gutter.

GOVERNMENT OKAYS CEILING HIKES ON COAL

Raises Range as High
As 75 Cents a Ton
For Soft Coal

INCREASED MINERS' PAY
IS REASON FOR BOOST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Government today authorized ceiling price hikes ranging as high as 75 cents per ton on bituminous coal and $1.35 per ton on Pennsylvania anthracite to cover increased labor costs.

The Office of Price Stabilization said the increases for both bituminous coal and anthracite are based on the recent boost of $1.50 per day in miners' wages. This amount was approved by the Wage Stabilization board for bituminous diggers.

OPS officials said that in event John L. Lewis is granted the full $1.90 per day pay hike for his United Mine Workers, an additional boost in coal ceilings may be necessary.

Lewis has negotiated contracts with both bituminous and anthracite operators at the $1.90 per day rate. The Wage board limited the increase for bituminous coal miners to $1.50, but this has been appealed to Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

PUTNAM HAS scheduled hearings Monday on the appeal. Lewis and Harry Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators association, have agreed to attend.

In the event the Government decides not to grant the full amount Lewis negotiated, a strike in the mines is considered inevitable.

The anthracite wage increase has attorney general under President Truman, and chief counsel of the but no decision has been reached. Congressional committee which Price officials said they expect to deliver into the Pearl Harbor disaster; Sir Edwin Herbert of Britain, wartime director of postal and telegraph censorship; and Prof. Paul Veldekens of Belgium, a former member of that country's Supreme Court bar.

The OPS order permits ceiling price increases ranging from 40 cents to $1.35 on anthracite coal effective Sunday.

Cast Off the Shackles!

ONE of the penalties of being in the public eye is becoming the target of anonymous letters, many of the "poison pen" variety.

Most public officials promptly consign those anonymous letters, the scurrilous attacks, to File 13. That's the waste basket. They belong there.

But it would be better if some of the "poison pen" type letters were turned over to postal authorities for investigation. Writers of the venomous letters are liable to prosecution, especially if they damage the reputation or business of the person to whom they're sent. There are laws to protect persons from this type of cowardly attack.

Anonymous letters are unworthy of attention. In this newspaper office, as in most others, such unsigned notes are not even read. So persons who contemplate writing such letters should save the time and trouble.

While The Mercury does not dignify the writers of anonymous letters by even mentioning them, it would like to comment on some silly attacks made on Pottstown councilmen.

After the defeat of a $750,000 referendum for new and improved streets, borough officials optimistically said hope for paving streets wasn't dead. They said they might be able to find money to build some much-needed streets, despite the defeat of the bond issue referendum at the polls.

This statement prompted an anonymous letter writer to address a borough official with the assinine statement:

"I see you're still trying to cram new streets down our throats!"

This unsigned letter is unworthy of attention except to point out the narrowness of the writer.

Cram paved streets down our throats? Is that wrong? Is Pottstown to remain in the backwoods class, with no modern improvements?

Must modern medical science be crammed down the throats of ill persons? Must persons with typhoid or tuberculosis be put into straightjackets, thrown into a hospital, and medicine be crammed down their throats?

Must modern schools and educational methods be crammed down the throats of backward citizens?

It is depressing to think some citizens are so backward and cheap that they would stand in the way of all progress. We hope that segment of the citizenry is far in the minority. We admire public officials for their strength to stand up against such unjust criticism.

For Pottstown must move onward, despite the obstacles set up by these obstructionists. Pioneers who champion progressive movements always will be the targets of slurs. The crusader receives little praise. His only is condemnation.

But we sincerely hope Pottstown's progressive councilman will never stop battling for improvements here.

Pottstown has made great progress in the past two decades.

Within the space of the past 20 years came such important improvements as complete renovation of Pottstown's school system from dingy, unsanitary, unhealthy brick dungeons to bright, airy, healthy, light modern buildings.

Within the past 20 years, Pottstown stopped dumping its human excrement into creeks that traversed the borough, such as Goose Neck, and Tan Run, and extended to sewage system to eliminate these unsanitary conditions.

Within the past 20 years Pottstown lighted its street corners adequately, had a modern street constructed on High street, rebuilt its two hospitals, and generally moved forward.

Today Pottstown needs encouragement and moral support for progressive movements and not blind opposition that brands improvements as something to be "crammed down our throats."

PUNKIN CORNERS,

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Wal, I see by the papers where the French staged a slow-motion motor car race, the winner doing less than five feet an hour. Sounds like it was staged on High street between two traffic lights on Friday night.
Dr. Hugo Eckener, the scientist, sees 'round the world vacation tours by way of Zeppelins. Great! The fare would be $20,000 and up. Wal, it was a nice dream!
And say: Duck hunters, says a story, look forward to chilly, rainy weather. So do cough drop manufacturers! Hopin' you air the same,

Armistice Day Parade Has a Booster

Parade Pleased Him

To the Editor: This year's Armistice Day parade was the most enjoyable one I can remember in a long career as an interested parade bystander.

I suppose the arty and smartly set of people will call me a "square" for saying this, but I'll take Sousa marches and strutting figures in uniform and leave them to their "progressive" jazz and zoot-suited jazz musicians.

Incidentally, the parades seem to include more girls and fewer men every succeeding year. There was a time not too long ago when there were drum majors but no drum majorettes. This year it looked like about half the people in the line of march were pretty High school girls twirling batons.

My theory is that the girls are pressed into service on parade day as substitutes for World War I vets who are getting too old and gouty to keep up the pace.

But that is all to the good. The willowy young things are more interesting to watch than a tottering phalanx of grizzled doughboys.

Besides, who ever head of a World

War vet taking a course in baton twirling under the GI bill?

Pottstown FLAT-FOOTED

Dislikes Hospital Plans

To the Editor: As a contributor to the fund for the new Pottstown hospital, I was quite disappointed with the architect's model displayed in a High street store window.

I suppose the architect knew what he was about when he designed the building. It is described as functional. Perhaps it is that, but I doubt if anyone but the most "advanced" architect would call it beautiful.

To a literal-minded person like myself, the new main building resembles nothing so much as an upended egg crate.

It seems to me that modern architects are not so much interested in beauty, or even "functionalism" as they are in creating bizarre effects that call attention to themselves as the creator.

In previous ages architects decorated their buildings with turrets, spires, domes and sculpture. They kept adding more and more to their buildings to keep ahead of their rivals in ornamentation.

Now we have the spectacle of architects in our day competing in the degree of angular, stark, bareness they can achieve.

Do They Love Dogs?

To the Editor: Why is it that people who profess to be such great dog lovers let their dogs run wild to annoy their neighbors and destroy the shrubbery that cost hard-earned money to buy?

Where is this so-called dog catcher our tax money pays for?

Since they did such a good job of rounding them up in Stowe, it seems to me they could also help the cause locally.

When they barge into your yard five and six at one time. It's time to do something about it.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 — "Kiss Me Kate," may be postponed indefinitely at Metro. They're having such casting headaches. Kieth Andes, east for a Bway show, was best choice for the singing lead. He got tired of waiting for a decision; ditto Ann Jeffreys. Kathryn Grayson is possible—but not probable. Ann Miller is lined up, but not for the star spot. Red Skelton and Ken Murray may team to furnish the comedy IF and when "Kate" Ann Rutherford gets going.

Sharmar Douglas back in Hollywood, and minus so much poundage her friends scarcely recognize her. . . . Marge and Gower Champion planning a complete tour of the Orient in January. Returning by way of Europe and New York. It all adds up to exactly one month's vacation for them—unless they decide to do some theater appearances along the way.

LORI NELSON, the recent fan magazine popularity poll winner, is giving her best smiles to young David Frame. . . . Ann Rutherford and her long-estranged spouse, David May, are making the spots together. Just for laffs, they say. . . . The Alan Ladd has rented themselves a medieval castle on the outskirts of London. Complete with ghosts? . . . Don't think the Marilyn Monroe-Joe Di Maggio tiff will last long. Only a few nights ago, she left a cocktail party very early — just to go home and cook dinner for him with her own hot little hands.

WE'VE MENTIONED how attractive Edgar Bergen's wife, Frances is. And now you'll see it's true—if you see "Nearer My God To Thee," that is! Frances has signed to play the role of Mrs. John Jacob Astor in this story of the Titanic's sinking. . . . Gordon MacCrea is brightening the Hollywood boulevards with a set of those new colored tires on his car. MacCrea's are red—and so far the only ones we've seen around here. . . . Sally Forrest, discouraged with the way things are breaking for her in the studios, is moving to N Y with her agent-husband, Milo Frank. . . . Chips Rafferty, most famous Australian actor, gets to Filmlife today to play in "The Desert Rats" with James Mason. He'll be an Anzac army officer in the siege of Trobruk which figures so importantly in the yarn. . . . Frances Langford and Jon Hall are putting off their return to Florida because they've decided to go back to Korea and entertain troops during the Christmas holidays—even though they returned from there only a few weeks ago. . . . Eve Arden expects to star in a full length feature movie based on her "Our Miss Brooks" television series. With financial backing already assured, she's trying to clear the screen rights.

★ LOOK WHO'S HERE!—Just in time for the Thanksgiving season, when we tabulate blessings, comes the "Old Farmer's Almanac" to foreshadow new blessings for the coming year. This almanac has been coming to this desk a great many (but not all) of its 161 years of publication with its philosophy, astronomy, prophecy and poetry. It has been likened to a timetable of verities. The New Yorker once said: "You can almost hear the heavenly bodies slowing up for their whistle stops." One of the most read departments is Abe Weatherwise's forecasts—and he says last Winter's was one of the most successful he ever made. For next Winter (Nov. and Dec., 1952, and Jan. Feb., and March, 1953) he predicts "swinkful (full of toil) and heavy-timed." In brief:

NOVEMBER'S windup will be rainy. December's first two weeks "will bring about as bad weather as you'll want to see. The last two weeks will moderate. No snow for Christmas. January's first two weeks will be cold, with most snow falling between the 10th and 22nd. Groundhog will see his shadow in February and a long, cold, wet Spring will follow. March will be a rainy and stormy month. In 1953 the only two long weekends will be Labor Day and Christmas (on Friday) and will be fair, the Almanac said. One whopper of a snowstorm is predicted for March 15 to 22.

★ REUNION—Veterans of the Meuse-Argonne offensive of 1918 and the D-Day landings in Normandy in 1944 will come together again in Lancaster tonight when the 304th Engineers Veterans association, a regiment of the 79th Division will hold their 32nd annual reunion. It will be attended by Elmer B. Haas, who was in Company F. More than 300 combat Army engineers will assemble to extend good old-fashioned fellowship and exchange reminiscence of close shaves encountered while performing duties under heavy shelling, machine gun fire, air strafing and sniper fire. Clarence H. Grimes, also a former member of Company F will not be reminiscing with the ex-mine layers and barbed wire snipers this year, but will mingle with printer's devils and compositors at the first banquet held by Pottstown Typographical union tonight.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IN ONE of the most dramatic methods of blood transfusion, the donor's organs can take over and carry out necessary processes temporarily, if the patient's organs are badly damaged. This method, known as cross transfusion, has been developed only recently.

People living today have seen life-saving advances in the art of transfusing blood and transplanting various tissues from one person to another.

We all know that blood can easily be transfused directly from person to person. However, before transfusing any blood, we must determine whether it is the same type as that of the patient receiving it.

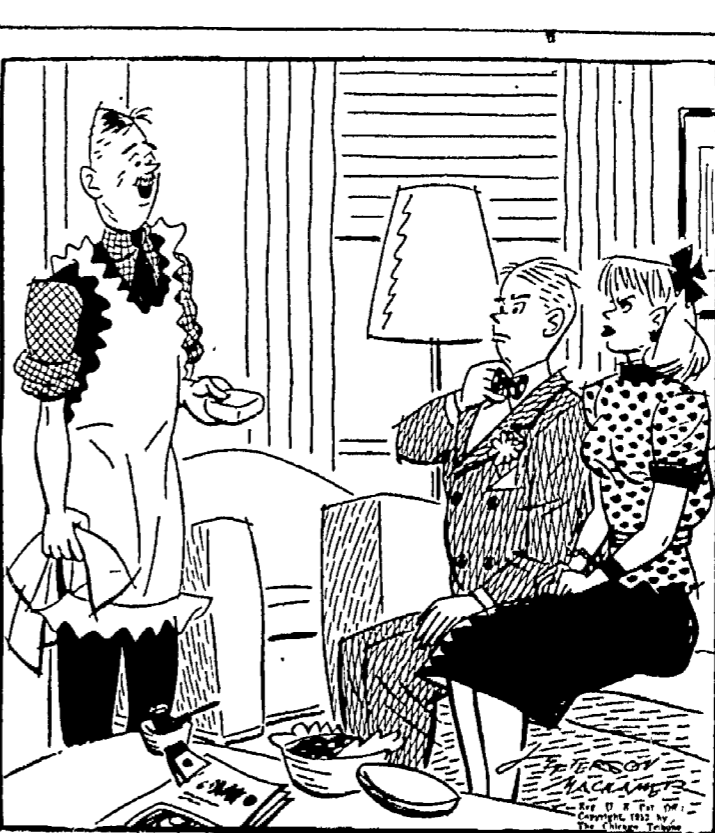

We can also keep blood in a refrigerator and transfer it to a patient at a later date. There is a blood "bank" in nearly every community in the country, and most hospitals keep a supply of blood on hand.

We are also starting to have bone banks in which bone is refrigerated and stored. This live bone can be used as transplants in certain types of orthopedic surgery and in reconstructing badly mangled limbs.

For a long time doctors have been trying to transfer whole organs, such as a kidney or heart, from one person to another. Practically all these attempts fail, because the transferred organ fails to stay alive in the second person.

By cross transfusion without actually transplanting the organs, the donor's organs for the time being can carry on for the damaged organs in the patient's body. With this method, a special instrument, acting like a pump, continuously exchanges the blood of the donor and the sick person.

Emmanuel Lutheran Will Install Its Officers Tomorrow

Church School Election Scheduled For 10:45 a. m.; Procession Is Set

Public installation ceremonies will be held at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow in Emmanuel Lutheran church for its recently-elected officers of the church school.

The 60 teachers of the Sunday school will join the 20 officers in the Sunday school room before the service. There they will form a procession and proceed to the church auditorium in a body.

Tithe Service to End Month of Giving at New Hanover Church

A Tithe Offering service at the New Hanover Lutheran church tomorrow morning at 10:15 o'clock will climax a month of sacrificial giving.

The tithe offering, a tenth of one's income, will be presented at the chief service by members of the congregation and Sunday school. The special gifts will be used to reduce the remaining debt on the recently completed parish house.

Following the church school hour, the entire Sunday school will march to the church nave and sit according to classes for the worship service. Each child has had a cardboard church in which to set aside the tenth part of his allowances and wages during the month. Adults of the school will make their offerings in similar offering boxes or special envelopes distributed for that purpose.

The session for the day will be in keeping with the theme of sacrificial giving. During the offertory, the congregation will be given an opportunity to place its offering in a special receptacle before the altar.

After returning to their seats, the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Kathryn Saylor, will sing the anthem, "Rejoice Give Thanks and Sing." A hymn of thanksgiving will follow the prayer for peace offered by the pastor.

THE SERVICE tomorrow will set the tone for the coming season of Thanksgiving. It will mark the beginning of a clothing drive for the needy in Korea and other areas of the world. The drive is assisted by Lutheran World Relief.

Members of the Kathleen Ragan society, the organization for young women of the church, will supervise the collection of useable clothing among the members of the church and in the community.

K of C to Set Plans For Christmas Party; Expect Postponement

Father Bailey Council 1192, Knights of Columbus, will meet Nov. 24 to plan a Christmas party to be held at the K of C headquarters, King and Charlotte street, during Christmas week.

William O. Smith, grand knight, announced last night that the meeting will be held a week later than usual because of the K of C convention in Harrisburg.

The decision to postpone the regular meeting was made at a meeting of the Council's officers Thursday night, Smith explained. Eighteen officers attended, including the various committee chairmen.

J. Stanley Spoehr is chairman of the committee for Christmas party.

OTHERS on the committee are Paul Marchek, Peter Grimm and Francis J. Powell Jr. Arrangements for the party will be made in co-operation with the ladies' auxiliary.

Grand Knight Smith further announced that Father Bailey Council will hold a dinner meeting Dec. 22. The place is still indefinite.

Grenadier Guards Play Prince Birthday Songs

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Red-tunicked bandmen of the Grenadier Guards, who specialize in happy military tunes, played "Happy Birthday" for Prince Charles today.

The heir apparent to the British throne was 4. At a window of Buckingham palace during the band concert, he seemed just about the most excited little boy in all the realm of his mother, Queen Elizabeth II.

His sister, Princess Anne, who is 2-plus, stood beside him and they saluted snappily at the appropriate moments during the changing of the guard ceremony. Charles had to nudge Anne once and tell her she took down her hand too soon, and Anne dutifully resumed her salute until big brother said she could relax.

Bible Words to Live by

ISAIAH 30:15—"In quietness and in confidence shall be thy strength."

In a day of strife and tumult, doubt and fear, we all need some sure source of strength for the duties of every day and confidence for the future. This I find in my favorite verse, though like most Christians, I have many other favorite verses and love the whole of God's Word.

Happy is the man whose trust is in the God and Father of us all, and who knows that through his faith in Christ as Saviour and Lord he has found the secret of joy and usefulness in life. Where else can we look for true and lasting peace of mind and heart and to whom else can we go for assurance for this life and the next.

Whatever the tumult without, the Christian can have peace and poise within. No matter what may be the test he has access to resources beyond himself that are unfailing and everlasting. Try this life of faith yourself and you, too, will find the promise is true, "In quietness and in confidence shall be thy strength."

Reclor Announces 40 Hours Devotion to Begin in St. Peter's

Forty hours of devotions in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church will begin tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced.

REV. LADISLAUS BARTYLAK

yesterday by the Rev. John Naja, rector.

Sermons will be delivered by the Rev. Ladislaus Bartylak, of the Resurrection Fathers, Castleton-on-Hudson, N. Y. He was in Rome, Italy, for five years and was superior of a seminary there. He was given several audiences with the Pope.

Father Bartylak also was rector of a parish in Canada for nine years. He speaks Italian fluently.

Confessions will be heard today in the church from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. Visiting priests will come from Conshohocken, Phoenixville, Swedesburg and Reading to assist in hearing confessions.

Christian Scientists To Hear Lecture by Ex-Insurance Head

"The restoration of healing to the practice of religion" will be the topic of a public lecture tomorrow by Walter S. Symonds, San Antonio, Texas, at the First Church of Christ Scientist of Pottstown.

Members of the church have invited the general public to attend. A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Symonds will speak tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. in Memorial hall at The Hill school.

Symonds, formerly general manager and owner of a group of insurance companies in San Antonio, left a business career to give his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing.

From 1945 to 1950 he served on the Christian Science Committee on Publication for Texas.

1st Baptist Sets Date For Annual Harvest Services Tomorrow

The Annual Harvest Home service will be held tomorrow morning at First Baptist church at 10:45 o'clock.

The children of the church school will bring gifts of food for the Baptist orphanage in Philadelphia which will be supplemented by larger items from the adult classes.

At the service there will be a special offering of money for the work of the three Baptist Institutions in Philadelphia; the orphanage, the home and the institute for Christian Workers.

Anne Molynoux, a first year student at the Institute and a recent addition to the youth staff of the church, will bring greetings from the institute.

The Rev. Laurence T. Beers, pastor, will bring a message in a series of sermons he is now making from the Psalms. It will be entitled: "How Big Is Your God?" The general public is invited to attend this service.

It is believed that plants and animals have common ancestors in evolution.

Adventists to Hear Conference President

The president of the East Pennsylvania conference of Seventh Day Adventists, T. Edgar Unruh, Reading, will be the guest speaker this morning at worship services of the Pottstown Adventist church.

The local president, who directs all Adventist activities in the eastern Pennsylvania area, was invited to the local church by the supply pastor, Clarence L. Duffield, and the assistant pastor, Donald A. Riesen.

He is expected to tell local Adventists of the growing work of the church in all parts of the world.

He also is listed as a guest speaker at the Royersford Adventist church, Wayside Chapel, Upper Lewis road, at their 11:00 a. m. service this morning. He will speak at 9:30 a. m. locally.

Local Golden Age Club Will Conduct Meeting

The Golden Age club of Pottstown will conduct a meeting in the YWCA Monday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

All persons 60 years of age and older are invited to attend.

Scholar of Bible To Speak on What He Saw in Germany

A Bible scholar recently returned from a study of conditions in Germany and other European countries will speak on what he saw there in the light of Bible prophecy tomorrow at 3 p. m. in Odd Fellows hall, 260 King street.

"The end of the world — man's only hope for survival" will be the topic of the address by W. Norman Woodworth, editor, Bible scholar and commentator.

Woodworth is convinced that the prophecies of the Bible are now being fulfilled, and that Christianity will experience a great triumph, church officials noted.

The lecture, which is sponsored by the New Apostolic church, will be free and no collection will be taken.

Ike Always Interested In Europe, Chapin Says

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, Nov. 14 (AP) — US Ambassador Selden Chapin told the American Business club today that President-Elect Eisenhower "will always be concerned about Europe."

Commenting on Eisenhower's attitude towards the Atlantic Treaty organization, he said: "We can be certain that he will watch carefully over the growth of this new creation of peaceful intent and that he will seek to promote a sound and flourishing European economy based upon a greater and more efficient exchange of goods."

BOMB EXPLODES

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — A home-made bomb exploded today in the residence of Sheriff (Prince) Moulay Idriss at Casablanca, marking the first outbreak of violence in the French protectorate in recent months.

Teacher of English From Japan to Speak At Woxall Church

Kei Sasaki, a teacher of English from Japan, will speak at the Old Goshenhoppen Lutheran church, Woxall, tomorrow morning.

Miss Sasaki will speak at the annual missionary thank offering service in the church at 10 a. m.

Formerly a teacher at the girls school in Kumamoto, Japan, the visiting speaker is currently a graduate student at Susquehanna university.

She has spoken previously at the Lutheran World Federation meeting in Hannover, Germany, and at the national convention of the Lutheran Church Women's Missionary societies in Philadelphia.

KEI SASAKI

MISS SASAKI was born in Hawaii. She is a graduate of the Women's college, Osaka, Japan, class of 1941, and is continuing her study for two years in the United States.

Old Goshenhoppen Lutheran church assists in the support of a parish at Ogi, Japan, through its Women's Missionary society.

Hiss Parole Appeal Goes Before Board; Chairman Is Mum

LEWISBURG, Nov. 14 (AP)—Alger Hiss was interviewed today on his application for parole from a five-year sentence for perjury in testifying that he did not transmit government secrets to the Communists.

Dr. George G. Killinger, chairman of the five-man US parole board, talked to the 48-year-old former State department employee at noon. He declined all comment on the case except to say that the interview was completed.

Hiss is eligible for parole Nov. 21 when one-third of his term is completed. But it is unlikely that he will be released then.

Killinger said it will be two weeks before a hearing stenographer transcribes his notes and another two or three weeks before the full board acts on the parole application.

Hiss' perjury conviction came in 1950 after a series of Washington hearings involving Whittaker Chambers, admitted one-time courier for Communist spies.

Hiss is eligible for parole Nov. 21 when one-third of his term is completed. But it is unlikely that he will be released then.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

If ye love Me, ye will keep My commandments.—(John XIV.15.)

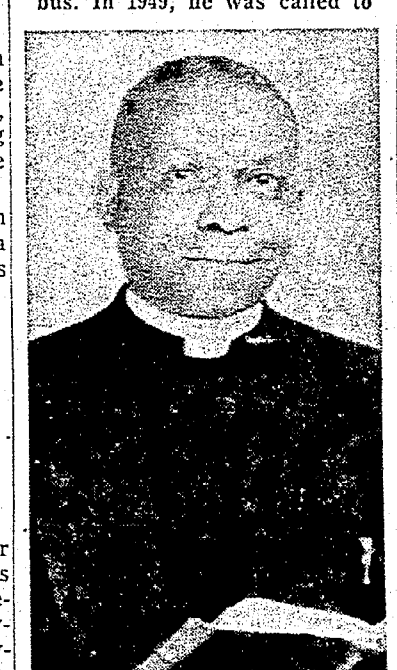

It is not enough to go to church one day a week and thus, by devout attendance and attention, to express love for the Lord. His commandments are to be kept every moment of every day in all we do, say and think—only then are we loving Him, and deserving of Divine favor.

Missionary Society Of Church Will Hold Annual 'Thank' Rites

Members of the Women's Missionary society of Grace Lutheran church will hold their annual Thank-offering Service tomorrow evening in the church at 7:30 p. m. Although planned by and for the Missionary society the service is open to all and the three choirs of the church will participate.

The preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. Edward H. Dixon, pastor of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church of Philadelphia. Pastor Dixon is a native of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

He did his college work at Capitol university in Columbus, Ohio, and in 1948 completed his theological work at the Theological seminary there. While in the Seminary he developed S. Philip's Mission in Columbus. In 1949, he was called to

REV. EDWARD H. DIXON

Philadelphia to organize Christ Church mission and in 1951, when the congregation was organized, became its first regular pastor.

Pastor Dixon is married and is the father of three children.

The Thank-offering Service is an annual occurrence at Grace Church designed to stress the importance of foreign missions to members of the congregation. At this service the members of the Missionary Society present an annual thank offering to the Church.

Present officers of the Women's Missionary society at Grace church are: Mrs. Merrill Kline, president,

A group of 33 members of Chester Valley grange visited East Lynn grange, Unionville. The guests presented a varied program of music and literary numbers. Six granges were represented at the meeting with a total attendance of 86. Mrs. Aldus Herr, lecturer of Chester Valley, presented the program.

Raymond Wharton, the newly installed Master of Chester Valley gave the agricultural number his discourse on "Corn." He told of the many varieties older as well as recent, and of the development made through hybridization and selection.

A group of Chester Valley Boys sang and played hill billy music that was particularly well received. Those in the musical organization included: John Boyle, William Hash, Aldus Herr, Hibberd Jones and Lewis W. Pyle.

Helene Jones gave a scarecrow dance, and Mrs. Hibberd Jones rendered a humorous reading. Through means of a chalk demonstration, Mrs. Lewis W. Pyle gave scenes from the month of November.

Mrs. Herbert Stauffer gave as a piano selection a medley of popular songs. Mrs. Jules L. Prevost, in offering the Home Economics number, gave the recipe for making a cranberry-nut loaf and awarded a loaf of the delicious home-baked food as a prize. The winner was C. Wesley Starr, Con-

Mrs. Estella Erb, vice-president, Emma Baker, secretary, and Alma Borneman, treasurer.

Hospital Ship Keeps Fishermen Mended

ST. JOHN'S, Canada, Nov. 14 (AP)—When Portuguese fishermen become ill or injured on the Grand Banks fishing grounds off Newfoundland, they board an unusual hospital ship, the 1814-ton Gil Eannes.

Below the wooden deck of the 278-foot vessel, built in 1914, live several cows and a few pigs. Crew members split and clean codfish and the scraps are picked up by a flock of hens. The livestock assures an adequate diet for the patients.

The Gil Eannes' job is to look after the medical and spiritual needs of the 4000 men who man the Portuguese fishing fleet. A doctor and two male nurses do the work. They have a 40-bed ward, an annex for tuberculosis patients, operating room with all facilities, including X-ray equipment.

An altar is located in the ward. A priest celebrates mass, broadcast to other vessels of the fleet by loudspeaker.

Ecclesiastical Hijinks in Merry Britannica To Provide Theme for Senior Class Farce

An American girl, who fancies herself an actress, marries—of all persons—an English vicar.

What happens to her and the vicar when an American Air Force member, who formerly acted with her, arrives on the scene is the theme of a play to be presented by the Senior class of Pottstown High school.

Date of the show, called "See How They Run," is Nov. 20, at 8:30 p. m. It will be given in the school auditorium, and is billed by Philip King, who wrote it, as a three-act comedy.

Tickets may be purchased from Senior class members or at the door.

The production, in rehearsal now, is being directed by Kenneth J. Gable.

The cast: Ismar Schorsch, the Rev. Lionel Loop; Mary Elizabeth Hospadore, Penelope, Loop; Bernice Shaw, Miss Skillen; Joanne Banks, Ida the maid.

Jon Nunemaker, Bishop of Lax; Charles Nagle, The Intruder; Robert Leidenberger, Corp. Clive Winton; Richard Mensch, Sergeant; and William Yohn, the Rev. Arthur Humphrey.

PMA Annual Review Passes With Praise When Teams Perform in Odd Fellows Hall

An inspection score of 88 was awarded to the Auxiliary of Patriots Militant Thursday in Odd Fellows hall by State auxiliary officials.

Reviewing officer Mildred Reese, junior past president of the Department Association of Pennsylvania, and her aide Col. Harry Stevens, said the PMA was "in good form." They watched the team of 22 perform a mustering-in ceremony to initiate Mary McCulley.

"Good rating" was given military drill of the 12 woman team.

Minnie Barr reported on the installation of three Pottstown women to state department offices at the Allentown session. Daisy M. Henry was named state vice-president; Esther Nest, right supporter to vice-president; and Geneva Kramer, officer of the guard.

Announcement has been made by President Ann Sweetwood of officer nominations: Viola Barndt, president; Edna Genneria, vice-president; Ida Finkbinder and Cora Pundt, recording secretary; Hazel Nest, representatives to the next state session.

Harvest Home services for Odd Fellows orphanage will be held in the OF home, Philadelphia, Nov. 30.

WCTU Briefed on Alcohol Problems

Alcoholic problems of today's society, especially as they touch upon the family, were discussed from the point of view of the Christian worker by the Rev. Donald T. Floyd Thursday.

"A true Christian," he explained to members of Pottstown WCTU at the November Roll Call meeting, "must not be unmindful of the fact that enticements to drink confront the alcoholic at every step."

Pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, he also displayed and explained several tracts which the 30 members present might use in their battle against the evils of the drink problem.

Theme of the meeting, "We Build for Total Abstinence Through the Family," was carried out in playlet and readings.

Members of Loyal Temperance league, Marjorie Keim, Anna Nagle, Mary Lou Shaffer and Harold Bittler, presented a skit called "Disillusioned"; Mrs. Catherine Martin gave the afternoon's reading.

President Laura R. Ecker conducted two services, a White Ribbon recruitment and an In Memoriam for three former members—Charlotte Hopkins, Mary Kline and Elizabeth Updegrave.

David Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fritz, 914 North Washington street, was the new recruit.

Jenkintown County convention activities ranged from installation of officers to "never-fail" receipts, as reported by members at the meeting.

County memorial service was described by President Ecker; Mrs. L. A. Kenaga told of the group's installation of county officers and department directors; the leading address by Dr. Melvin Forney, pastor of Third Baptist church, Philadelphia, was reviewed by Mary Eschbach and Hattie Loughlin.

After the noon-tide Fellowship hour as reported by Lottie Dierolf, Gertrude B. Ecker told of "a never-fail recipe if properly used for a successful WCTU which was tried and tested in Martha Mayhugh's kitchen. Martha Mayhugh is the state corresponding secretary from Ridley Park."

Decisions to contribute to the United Fund drive and to hold the next meeting Dec. 11 were announced by the president. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. L. A. Kenaga, 1373 Queen street.

Committee for the Christmas sale will include: Mary Koplin, Mrs. Lester Ulmer, Hattie Loughlin, Mrs. Kenaga, Elva Mason, Mrs. John Schwenk, Catherine Martin and Thelma Street.

Three new members, Catherine Martin, Mrs. Elmer Detwiler and Mrs. Sherman Ewing, were introduced.

Musical participants in the program were Mrs. Walter Dunlap, Mrs. Elmer Detwiler, Mrs. W. F. Maloney and Mary Eschbach.

PTA Speaker Is Sceptical of Copybook Maxims on Care, Raising of Youngsters

"The rule isn't always right," said Mrs. Peter Iltis speaking to members of Lincoln PTA board Thursday night.

"What is right for one child is not necessarily right for all. One must treat one's children as individuals with individual problems."

Mrs. Iltis felt that too much confidence has been placed by anxious parents in the advice of experts. She advocated the use of more common sense and less rote following of rule.

In charge of the children's Christmas party Dec. 19 will be Mrs. Marcus Meyers, Mrs. Carl Boyer, Mrs. Joseph Klink and Mrs. George Klink.

Hostess for the past Thursday meeting and budget chairman, Mrs. Marcus Meyers, 255 West King street, announced that the card party had fulfilled all financial hopes.

Why Tear Down the Younger Generation? School Superintendent Feels It's Best Yet

Have you ever heard anyone—perhaps yourself—wondering out loud about the fate of the present generation? Have you heard it said that it doesn't measure up to past generations and that from all signs it's getting worse?

Dr. George A. McCormick, Superintendent of Pottstown schools, has heard it all, and he doesn't believe a word of it.

Speaking before members of the Junior High School Thursday night in the school auditorium, he told why.

"If adults would look at the situation from a positive point of view," he said, "they would see that the present generation is much better than the past and getting better, not only scholastically, which is a matter of statistics, but morally as well."

One of the faults of today's parents, he said, is that they are unwilling to encourage youngsters "Too often you find that, instead of giving them a boost and letting them know they are better, parents go out of their way to run them down."

Why is the present generation better? In his talk on "Your Junior High School and Its Needs," Dr. McCormick suggested it might be because its "horizons have been broadened by the marvels of science and because it is being taught by more progressive and understanding teachers."

As for the Junior high school itself, Dr. McCormick feels the most serious problem is making it easier for pupils to adjust to the system of departmental work after years of the "one teacher" regime in elementary school.

"Departmental work, where the pupil must co-operate with many pupils and several teachers in the course of a day's activities, requires greater self-discipline and reliance," he said. Teachers, therefore, in order to stimulate interest should be "active, not passive."

Parents present were warned by Dr. McCormick not to "divorce" their children at too young an age. The secondary school program, no less than the elementary, requires parental co-operation, he said. "There has been a harmful trend toward too-early maturing among our children."

Dr. McCormick also spoke of the

Mrs. Joseph Klink is in charge of the PTA magazine sale, announced President Mrs. Lewis Besci.

The Dec. 11 board meeting will be a Christmas party.

Present were: Dorothy Barkel, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Douglas Binder, Mrs. George Bickel, Mrs. Lottie Hoernle, Mrs. Joseph Hutt, Mrs. James Torrens, Mrs. George Seidel, Mrs. Frank Gross and Mrs. Woodrow Frick.

Dinner Party Given For Next First Lady

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 14 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower gave a dinner party tonight for the next first lady of the land on her 56th birthday.

The party for about 30 persons—family members and close friends—was held at the exclusive Augusta National Golf club, where Eisenhower is vacationing.

A bit earlier, about 35 newsmen and women who are covering the general here called at the nearby Eisenhower bungalow to present a gift to his wife—an Amythest jewelry set made up of a necklace, earrings, a bracelet and a brooch.

They also brought, along a four-tier birthday cake, which Mrs. Eisenhower promptly cut and fed to two eager grandchildren, Dwight David, 4, and Barbara Anne, 4. They are the children of Maj. John Eisenhower, who is stationed in Korea.

A third grandchild, 9-months-old Susan, already had been put to bed for the night.

MRS. GUTMAN RETURNS

Committees of Newcomers' club, VFW auxiliary and JUV auxiliary will be pleased to know that Jeanne V. Gutman has returned home to Linden apartments. Mrs. Gutman has been visiting with relatives for the past four weeks.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Shoop, Pottstown RD 1, in Pottstown hospital yesterday.

Fire Company Auxiliary Dances Christmas Party

The Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company Ladies' auxiliary announced Dec. 11 as the date of its Christmas party to be held in the firehouse.

It was decided that each member should bring a covered dish and a $1 gift. Meat, butter and buns will be furnished by the auxiliary.

Emma Smyk, a new member, was welcomed into the organization. The "pig" was won by Ella Keiferder.

A box social held after the meeting was in charge of Mary Shipp, chairman of the social committee. Movies also were shown.

Teen-Age Mid-Fall Frolic Attended by 200 Pupils

Over 200 High school pupils turned out for Memorial Teen-Age auxiliary's Mid-Fall frolic last night.

To music by Sherwood Yergy's orchestra, two couples danced away to win "spot" and "jitterbug" prizes. Winners of the spot dance were Nanelle Evans and Gerry Wade. Joan Thompson and Carl Petrucci won the jitterbug contest.

This home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Faulk at 1202 North Franklin street has its front door on the side, facing Master street, permitting easy access between it and the garage. The house, which is on the northeast corner, was finished in February of 1949 by Michael Yonkovich, Pottstown contractor. The front door opens onto the living room, 11 by 17 feet. Also downstairs are a kitchen, two bedrooms and a bath. On the second floor is a combination bedroom-study. This bedroom has a big picture window, with a view of rolling hills in the background. The frame section beneath the peaks of the roof are dark brown. The stucco is gray. Faulk is manager of Rosedale diner. Sitting on the front steps is Timothy Longfellow, the dachshund owned by their 5-year-old daughter, Cynthia Louise.

Kesseling Gets Gratuity From West Germans

GOETTINGEN, Germany, Nov. 14 (AP) — Former Field Marshal Albert Kesseling has received a gratuity of 170 marks ($40.46) from the West German government and official discharge papers identifying him as a returned prisoner of war, refugee ministry officials said today.

A representative of the ministry presented the money and papers to Kesseling in an Essen clinic, where he has been receiving medical treatment since his 20-year war crimes sentence was commuted by the British Oct. 3.

Tunnels Are Proposed To Solve Drainage Issue

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP) — The U. S. Bureau of Mines reported today that the best way to solve the water-drainage problem in the Lackawanna basin of Pennsylvania appears to be a tunnel system with a central pumping plant.

This system might double the life of the northern anthracite mining area which already has invested in surface drainage systems to combat underground floods, the bureau said.

Directors' Meeting Gets Surprise Treat

School directors of 11 districts who attended a meeting in Royersford high school library Thursday night to discuss jointure proceedings received a surprise.

At a time when the discussion apparently reached an impasse, Supervising Principal Dr. O. C. Kuntzman asked the group if they would mind if he opened the doors awhile to "air the room."

When no objections were raised, the doors opened and members of the Parent-Teacher association and domestic science girls of the high school entered with trays of refreshments.

The treat included cake, cookies, ice cream and coffee. There was no objection to that either. After a brief recess the group settled down to discussions.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

The Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Eagle, Woodstown, N. J., announced the birth of a daughter, born Nov. 6.

The Rev. Eagle, formerly of Royersford, is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Eagle, 251 Green street.

Pravda Declares West Fearing United Nations

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 (AP) — Pravda declared today the big Western powers are beginning to fear the United Nations, "where antagonisms tearing asunder the capitalist world are being expressed more and more openly."

The official Communist party newspaper made this comment on speeches in the UN by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman involving colonial issues.

Pravda was reflecting a view similar to that taken by Prime Minister Stalin in his lengthy article in the magazine Bolshhevik the past month prior to the recent Congress of the Soviet Communist party. Stalin said war is inevitable among the capitalist countries.

Man Fatally Wounded By His Brother Hunting

CLEARFIELD, Nov. 14 (AP) — A Clearfield county man was fatally wounded by his brother today when he entered a woods near their home to flush a turkey, Deputy Coroner F. I. Gullung reported.

Gullung identified the victim as Grover Cowder, 45, of Woodland Rd. He gave this version:

Cowder was working in a clearing near his home. His brother, Guy, hunted turkeys nearby. Grover saw a turkey and entered the woods to flush it for his brother.

Guy fired into the woods, Gullung said, hitting Grover in the chest. No charge has been filed against Guy.

DENIAL MADE

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP) — Louis E. Morgan, former head of the defunct police vice squad, denied today that testimony against morals suspects was softened on his orders.

That $2.50 Will Be Useful

—Mercury Staff Photo

If you're the lucky person in the ring you can add $2.50 to your Christmas budget. The procedure for securing the award is simple: Report to The Mercury office, King and Hanover streets, identify yourself and name the place in Santa Clausland where the picture was taken. Ten awards have been given away and there will be a new ring in the paper every day. The Mercury has been giving out cash awards to Santa Clausland shoppers. Remember to check your Mercury daily. You may be the next winner.

Forgetful Spouse Almost Loses Prize, But Two Women Collect

A woman with a forgetful husband and a woman with a flock of friends became the ninth and tenth winners in The Mercury's ringed photo contest yesterday.

Mrs. Marion Gilbert, 255 Berk's street, Stowe, the ninth winner, saved her award with just 30 minutes to spare. She called The Mercury at 11:30 p. m. Thursday after her delinquent husband forgot to stop for the award.

Mrs. Gilbert, who works in Reading and didn't discover she was a winner until she returned to her home Thursday night, instructed her husband to pick up the award on a bowling junket to Pottstown.

The husband forgot and Mrs. Gilbert made the last ditch phone call to save her $2.50 prize.

The Stowe woman was shopping with her daughter, Kitty, and Mrs. Luther A. Rife, Gay and Logan streets, in Sears Roebuck company, 232 High street, when The Mercury photographer snapped her picture.

MRS. HANNAH DICKERSON, who works in Reading and didn't discover she was a winner until she returned to her home Thursday night, instructed her husband to pick up the award on a bowling junket to Pottstown.

Trojans Need Win to Assure Winning Season

In past years the Bridgeport game was usually regarded as the lone Ches-Mont breather for teams around the league. Not so this season, however.

The Dragons will come to Franklin field this afternoon riding high after their best effort of the campaign—a 27-0 victory over Phoenixville last Saturday. The Trojans will be in a different frame of mind trying to regain the winning knack after losing a pair of league tilts on successive Saturdays.

A victory today will assure Pottstown of no worse than a .500 season. Three wins, three defeats and a tie balance the ledger this morning and by tonight Trojan fans should know pretty well whether their team will have a winning or losing season.

Coach Heeb Meyers has been stressing passing during the past week's scrimmage endeavoring to establish a sustained attack. The 13-0 loss at the hands of Coatesville was caused directly by the inability of the offensive unit to get rolling.

It is doubtful that Bridgeport will show anything in the way of defense like that of the Red Raiders. The Porters are solid but light and have given up almost as many touchdowns as they have scored.

Coatesville stopped Howie Bedell and that was probably the key to its victory. If the Trojan blockers can free Bedell he is capable of doing the rest himself with his undeniable speed in the open.

JACK BECHTEL is a sure gainer through the line and if the Porters watch Bedell too closely, the Trojan right halfback could hurt them with his plunging.

Bill Kerr and Jim Kirk will round out the Trojans' starting backfield. Kirk has been trying to improve his long throws to go along with his consistent good showing on the short aerials.

Kerr left little doubt that his is the best pass defender with his three interceptions last week. He'll probably get another aerial workout as Bridgeport's Jopey Pinckavitch likes to throw.

The three co-captains, Bob Sutton, Ben Downie and Steve Cherenesky will all give their Franklin field farewell performance.

Upper Perk Meets Tough Emmaus Foe; 3 UP Players Shelved With Injuries

Upper Perk has sent out an invitation to Emmaus High's streak-snapping specialists to come around today and snip a couple skeins. The Lehigh county eleven the past week scissored Nazareth's 26 game win string and today moves into East Greenville for a perennially hair-triggered explosive game.

UP is currently deep in the throes of a couple of one game loss lines. —a 12-6 defeat by Roversford the past week composing the one, and Emmaus' 17-14 win in 1951, the other.

Incidentally, East Greenville is the prototype of Upper Perk—lost in same fashion to Emmaus the past year as Nazareth did a week back: a field goal. The same kicker booted home both victories for the Ems.

The Perkies will have to go along today without Denny Roth, their leading scorer from his left halfback slot, punter and defensive back Bob Smith and partially minus the availability of left end Al Tomlinson.

Roth suffered a shoulder separation in the Roversford squabble, while Smith's knee was severely banged up. Tomlinson's knee also was severely wrenched, but he'll play a little today.

Former reserve tackle Len Miklosovic will move in at the flank in Tomlinson's absence and will handle the punting. Marty Leonard is the choice in defensive backfield, with Sterling Shelly listed for two-way duty as a halfback in loser.

Roversford Travels To Play Neshaminy Wojton at Fullback

Defensive stickout Hen Wojton gets his shot at full-time ballcarrying this afternoon as Roversford travels to Langhorne for a duel with host Neshaminy High.

Wojton, who heretofore devoted his 145 pounds exclusively to tackling, took over the starting fullback post in practice this week when it was learned that Carroll Swenson, the front-line blocker, had pulled a hip muscle and ripped off some tendons in the upper leg, while sprinting Monday in practice. Swenson will be out for the year.

The 'Fords have won five straight while compiling a 7-1 mark this season and go into today's battle with Neshaminy a favorite. The hosts' record is every bit as good numerically as the Eagles', but once you compare competition, there the comparison ends.

Neshaminy, a single wing club with a well developed aerial game, dropped its opener to strong Ambler, 25-7, and then came on to rack up seven straight at the expense of Pennsbury, Morrisville, Lower Moreland (19-2), Council Rock, Bristol, Southampton, and Jenkintown (32-7).

THE 'FORDS have never lost to the Horners, winning 37-0, the past year and 19-12 in 1950 in the series inaugural tilt.

Guard Tad Tyson is another possible injury problem, although it's likely he'll be around for at least limited service this afternoon. He bumped his knee pretty hard in practice during the week, however. Bob McNelly has a moderately experienced reserve there in Claire Hunter.

With Wojton in the backfield will be the regular trio of Lou Alexander, Charley Miller and Gary Grater. The line will work with Jake Troutwine, Al Wolfe, Mark Horner, Nick Dinnoconti, Tyson or Hunter, Bill Rogers and Bob Quinn from end to end.

Room 307 Wins Intramural Tilt

Bobby Grow, Jim Carter and Dick Miller carried Room 307 to a sweeping 41-36 win over 302 yesterday in the PHS Ninth grade intramural basketball program.

Miller with 18, Grow with 11 and Carter with ten points carried the bulk of the victors' scoring as they built up quarterly leads of 8-4 and 17-11 before falling behind, 28-27, after three periods and then rallying for 11 points in the final stanza to salt the win away.

Don Keifrid's dozen markers paced the losers.

North Coventry Plays Host Today to West Pottsgrove With Perk League's Little Four Crown at Stake

Championship ball will be played on the wide open spaces of North Coventry football field this afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Wildcats and West Pottsgrove competing for the Perk league's Little Four crown.

This neighborhood battle is always the high point of the season for both squads and this year even more is at stake. Both come into today's game with .500 marks: Norco has 2-2-1, and the Falcons, 2-2.

On the strength of their records, the teams rate almost a tossup, with possibly WP holding a slight edge. But the past two weeks have paid a heavy toll in injuries on the Wildcats making them more of an underdog eleven.

Five Norcos have been injured recently. End Art Airey is the most serious casualty with a broken leg. Duke Kinckiner will not be at his starting quarterback spot because of a hip bruise and shoulder miseries will sideline center John Petrick at kickoff time.

Dave Clemens, Kinckiner's quarterback replacement will start but he has a weak ankle and the Duke will probably have to be called on for spot performances. Big Rod McMullen bruised his knee in an auto accident but is being started by Coach Al Brown.

THE SAME TEAM that defeated Collegeville, 26-18, the past Saturday will open for West Pottsgrove. Left halfback Paul Strzelecki is in depend upon the performance of

THE WILDCATS can also present a formidable trio of runners in fullback Bill Whitlatch, Lowell Fries and Ron Domin. Without Kinckiner in the game, Whitlatch will probably carry the load.

The outcome of the contest will be in depend upon the performance of

Bent But Not Broken

This quartet of unhappy Wildcats of North Coventry have plenty of reason for the unsmiling countenances. All are bothered by injuries and will probably see only limited action against West Pottsgrove today. Left to right: Quarterback Duke Kinckiner, bruised hip; center John Petrick, injured shoulder; quarterback Dave Clemens, sprained ankle; tackle Rod McMullen, damaged knee.

The Pirates Want Win No. 2

The arrangement might not be quite the same, but all of these Spring City Pirates will do battle against Boyertown this afternoon. In the backfield No. 15, Bob Sipa and Cal Fox, (over the center) will change places. Bill Bainbridge, No. 20, will remain at fullback, and Joe Edwards, No. 11, will be the left halfback.

Boyertown Faces Spring City in Perk Cellar Series

The Perkiomen-Schuylkill Big Four circuit's weak sisters get together this afternoon at Spring City to try to pass the cellar buck off on each other.

Boyertown and the host Pirates, both winners over North Coventry for their lone victories, each has an 0-1 league mark and the loser of today's tilt will be firmly entrenched in last place.

Collegeville Plays At Schwenksville; Both After 1st Win

Two winless records will be matched against each other when the Colonels of Collegeville go to Schwenksville to play the Bluebirds in a Little Four contest that will decide who is to reside in the Perk league cellar.

The Cols are defending Little Four champs but their crown has already slipped away and even a victory today would be somewhat of a high note for the season. They have lost five games and tied two others.

With only one game remaining after today, Coach Bob Hackman's boys realize time is running out and a win must be located soon. They gave West Pottsgrove a good battle last Saturday, only to lose in the second half, 26-18.

The Hefelfinger brothers and Bill Yeagie are the heavy Col offensive guns.

For the Bluebirds the picture is even blacker. In four games Frank Schutz has yet to see his charges score a point. A touchdown today would probably serve as a moral victory for the 'Birds in this final game of the season.

Both clubs are operating on the hypothesis of a two-game sweep to close their thus far drab weekend tour series into a successful season's journey.

Spring City could bring about a three way deadlock for the crown by dumping the Bears and then pulling the upset of the decade against Roversford on Thanksgiving. Boyertown still has an outside shot at a tie for the lead and could clinch at least a tie for the runnerup slot by finishing in a blaze.

This afternoon, however, will tell for the moment. And in addition to its effect on the standings, it'll swing the balance of victories to the winner in the series since the Perk circuit was organized three years back.

They split the first two outings with the past year's battle ending in a 20-20 tie.

Boyertown (1-5), despite the temporary loss of two starting linemen, still looks to have enough to bomb out the Bucs. Guard Hal Bernhart and tackle Pete Fronheiser will both see but limited action in this afternoon's scrap because of ailing legs. Bernhart caught his in the Shillington scuffle and is in slightly better shape than the 145-pound Fronheiser.

FRONHEISER'S inactivity as a starter will bring on converted back and defensive guard Harry Tim, a 6-1, 170-pound Senior, who will likely do a commendable job of filling in Junior Billy Wolfstrom will move into Bernhart's spot.

Billy, a well-knit 145-pounder, has been one of Bob Fleming's most capable reserves this year.

Soph Bill Endy, Greg Lignelli, Terry Shaner and either Dave Erb or Charley Fronheiser will compose the starting backfield for the Bears.

Should Erb start, it would be his first offensive opening job.

Spring City (1-6), has been a little "hazy" in its workouts and is out to pin a fourth straight loss on the Bears this year. B-town has lost to Wilson, Shillington and Muhlenberg since dunking Norco.

It's been the case in the past that the Bucs got hazy in the second half of their ball games after holding their own against larger foes before the midway break.

Boyertown has been acting just the reverse, getting its licks in the first half and getting its lickings in the second.

Ursinus Faces Juniata Today

Juniata college, complete with a high-scoring wingback named Fran Wampler, meets Ursinus this afternoon at Collegeville in a 2 p. m. engagement.

Wampler, the former North Coventry High fullback, has materialized into the Wildcats' best passer and reverse threat and has rolled up many TD's this season.

The Bears of Ray Gurynski, meanwhile, will be out to swing the season over to the winning side, currently running with a 3-3-1 log.

Dick Bartell Retires From Diamond Game

ALAMEDA, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Dick Bartell, peppery major league baseball star who broke in with the Pittsburgh of the national league in 1927, said today he is retiring from baseball. He will be associated with a motor company agency in nearby Berkeley.

His last baseball job was as a coach with Detroit of the American league. During his playing career he was with Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York and Chicago of the National League and Detroit.

The shortstop and third baseman played in three World Series and two all-star games.

West Chester Romps to Win Over Bloomsburg

WEST CHESTER, Nov. 14 (AP) — Earl Hersh, the West Chester battering ram, pulverized Bloomsburg's good but outclassed line tonight to lead West Chester to its seventh straight win this season, 28 to 6.

Some 8000 fans jammed Wayne Field to watch Hersh score two touchdowns, run for two others that were called back by penalties, and gain 174 yards from scrimmage himself.

On the shoulders of the 6-2, 200-pounder West Chester 11 rode to its ninth straight win over two years and its 29th straight victory at home.

The win also gave the winners sole possession of the State Teachers conference championship and put them squarely in line for possible post season appearances.

After being held scoreless in the first quarter by penalties (60 yards in the first 15 minutes) and a disastrous fumble on the two-yard line, West Chester broke loose for three touchdowns in the second quarter and a 20-0 lead at halftime.

Dan Bucceroni Blasts Danny Nardico To Floor in 10th in Easy Decision

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Ranga Dan Bucceroni blasted swarming Danny Nardico with chopping, inside lefts and rattling rights, dropping the Tampa, Fla., gamester for a nine-count in the 10th and last round to win a unanimous decision tonight in a grueling battle. Bucceroni weighed 185, Nardico 175.

The Philadelphia heavyweight, with height, weight and reach on the his swarming opponent, controlled the head-to-head battling through the early rounds. Although he tired in the late rounds against his ever-onward foe, Bucceroni almost ended the fight with a smashing right over Nardico's ear in the tenth.

Nardico, dazed and hurt, bounced up quickly but backed against the ropes and looked idly around. Referee Ruby Goldstein gave him the automatic eight-count and one more before he let the fight continue. Nardico kept yelling to the referee, "I'm all right" as he rallied in a desperation attack.

Referee Goldstein and Judge Artie Aidala scored it 8-2 and judge Charley Shortell 6-3-1, all in favor of Bucceroni, the AP card also had it 8-2. Bucceroni was penalized the eighth round for a low blow but he had lost the round anyway.

Only 4874 paying $15.93 turned up for the nationally televised bout in Madison Square Garden that was fought head-to-head through the 10 rounds. In the early stages it looked like a battling practice workout for Bucceroni. The best you could say about Nardico in the early rounds was that he never stepped back.

GIVING AWAY four inches in height and 934 pounds, Nardico had to carry the fight inside. But he simply was not equipped to fight inside against the sharp-shooting Bucceroni. Time after time Bucceroni would step back.

As the vanguard of 50,095 fans—every ticket was sold weeks ago—moved into town, sideline quarterbacks were wondering if Notre Dame would use the criticized shift.

In the Oklahoma and Purdue games, Notre Dame several times shifted unexpectedly from the T formation to the single wing. Oklahoma was lured offside and in one instance the five yard penalty helped set up a touchdown.

Michigan State Coach Biggie Munn said "it will be up to the officials to decide if the shift is illegal."

Biggie denied a published newspaper report that he had said, "I question its legality." The statement was alleged to have been made on a local broadcast last night.

Even scalper's tickets were scarce and the NCAA's refusal to permit a Lansing station (WJIM-TV) to telecast the game didn't help.

Since the game was a sellout, the station and Michigan State athletic director Ralph Young had asked an okay. But the NCAA in its edict today, said telecasting would interfere with three other games in the area—including the Michigan-Purdue game at nearby Ann Arbor.

Approximately 2000 Notre Dame rooters—eager to see Coach Frank Leahy avenge the 35-0 beating Michigan State handed out last year before a national TV audience—were already milling around town.

A press box that's supposed to seat 280 will be jammed with 400 newsmen as State risks its No. 1 rating against the sixth-ranked Irish.

Moreover, every major radio network and many independents will broadcast the game. Every major newsreel and TV newsreel company will be on hand.

Folding chairs are being placed around the field to accompany the crowd, which has been promised mild, 60-degree temperatures and no rain.

Michigan State Coach Munn, the man with the many backfields, will start his most fearsome foursome. Michigan State has the top offensive record in the country with 3088 yards. More than two-thirds of that total—2113 yards—has been made by the four backs Munn named as starters.

Quarterback Tom Yewic already has set a new passing record for the school with his 872 yards on completions.

Billy Wells (461 yards rushing) and Don McAuliffe (433 yards), best ground-gainers among the backs, will be paired at the halves. Evan Sloane (247 yards) will be at fullback.

Upset-hungry Notre Dame, revitalized after dumping Oklahoma last week, was due in Lansing by train Saturday morning.

Notre Dame—a 13-point underdog—will be seeking its first decision over the Spartans in three years.

Notre Dame will be trying to stop State's 22-game winning streak—currently the longest among major colleges.

Starting at quarterback for Notre Dame will be Ralph Guglielmi, just a sub in last year's 35-0 loss—worst in Leahy's coaching history.

John Latner, the flashy offensive and defensive star, and Joe Heap were to start at the halfbacks. And crushing Neil Worden was the choice at fullback.

Since this is a home game, Munn—who has played up to 62 men in a single contest—will be able to empty his bench against the Irish, if desired. Notre Dame, with only a 44-man squad, will be outmanned at least in numbers.

Early this week Munn had his coaches working with a water-soaked ball when the long-range weather forecast predicted rain. Latest forecast, however, was for cloudy skies but no rain.

Gene Stanlee Secured by Bertolini To Put Bulldog Plechas in His Place

Reading, Nov. 14—Danny (Bulldog) Plechas, who has figured in a pair of wild and woolly tuggests the last two weeks, will stack up against "the real thing" tomorrow night when promoter Bert Bertolini presents his weekly wrestling show at the Reading Armory.

In an effort to have Plechas "put in his place," Bertolini has matched the 250-pound Serb from South Omaha, Neb., with Gene (Mr. America) Stanlee, blond adonis from Chicago.

This one-fall-to-a-finish main event heads a card on which Pedro Escobar, Puerto Rican's candidate for universal grappling laurels, will take on Jack Dillon, erstwhile Masked Phantom, in the semi-feature engagement, while Bill Hiers and George Babich will meet John Heidemann and Jean Couture in a best-of-three-falls Australian tag team match.

Plechas manhandled Ray Thunder to emphatic defeat in his debut here two weeks ago and last Saturday night lost by disqualification to Roland

Meeker. Mr. America, entirely recovered from injuries which sidelined him two weeks, waged two bitter brawls with Lu Kim and defeated Tony Martinelli in previous showings here this season.

A boxer-turned-wrestler, Plechas, is one of the roughest matmen ever to display his wares in this city. He arrived in the East less than a month ago and several of the so-called topflight matmen already have turned down meetings with the "Bulldog."

Babich, Heidemann and Couture are the newcomers on this week's card as Bertolini continues his "New Deal — New Faces" policy. Babich was a football star at Fordham university during his collegiate career and now is in his second year as a professional pachyderm. A French-Canadian, the five-foot-seven 200-pound Couture was Canada's junior heavyweight champion in 1950.

Known in wrestling circles as the "Bronx Bad Boy," Heidemann is a rough and ready matman who will go to any extreme to torture an opponent. It is altogether possible that Saturday night's team match will steal plenty of thunder from the two, 60-starred tuggests.

State Troopers Commended for Bravery back to June 18, 1946. He said Jensen, whose claim of being a "narcotics runner" led to his death, was arrested "several times" for carrying concealed deadly weapons and stealing automobiles and that he "also was a problem with the Army, being AWOL (absent without leave) a couple of times."

THE CORPORAL asserted investigation of a railroad pass for someone else in Jensen's effects disclosed the ex-convict had stolen the pass and a number of antiques from a retired Chesapeake and Ohio railroad employee in Davenport, Ohio, who had befriended Jensen.

Beacraft said this theft occurred "just prior to his meeting" Rose Marie Thomas, 21, the past Oct. 3 in Columbus, Ohio. Miss Thomas then had brought Jensen to her home where the shooting occurred. After Dr. John Simpson, the coroner's physician, related the manner of Jensen's death and stated that "any one or all of the bullets could have killed him," Rushong called Thomas to testify.

The grey-haired, partially bald 60-year-old machinist stood calmly behind a marble partition fronting the court dias and told what he knew of the shooting in a deep, even voice.

He related how, the night of Oct. 17, he drove Jensen from Limerick to Allentown for a conference with Miss Thomas, who had gone there two days previously.

THE MEETING had been arranged earlier in the evening when Miss Thomas telephoned Jensen at the Thomas home.

In answer to questioning by Rushong, Thomas said Jensen had caused him no trouble "Whatsoever" while in his home, that he had done "nothing unusual."

He said Jensen "seemed normal," I'd say, as much as I knew the man.

Asked if he had known Jensen carried a gun, Thomas replied: "Not until after midnight (Oct. 17) did I know he had a gun. And that was when another party told me."

He referred to his daughter, who told him about the gun in a telephone conversation after Thomas had returned home with Jensen following the Allentown meeting.

MISS THOMAS, her dark red hair pulled into a bun behind her head and wearing a black cloth coat, white blouse and a white polka-dotted blue shirt, took the stand after her father.

Answering Rushong's queries, she said the first she knew of Jensen ever having been in trouble was Oct. 12, nine days after she met him while returning from a motor trip in the West.

She said the dead man told her then "that as a youngster he had been in trouble with the juvenile authorities." She later related that she learned of his once having been a "narcotics runner," during the Allentown meeting.

Jensen "never mentioned the FBI," she claimed, "but had said he had trouble with the police but had always succeeded in evading them."

She said Jensen told her he was returning to the narcotics racket and wanted her to travel with him. Later, during Flannery's testimony, Rushong asked Miss Thomas if she had been threatened by Jensen.

She replied: "No, sir, I was not."

IN ANSWER to a question by Sgt. Thomas V. Devlin, officer-in-charge of the Jeffersonville substitution who with Beacraft investigated the shooting, Miss Thomas said she saw two guns the night of Jensen's death.

"My father's (a dark 38 caliber revolver) and a .32," she said. Jensen had given her Thomas' gun in Allentown, but she did not realize until later, she said, that it was her father's.

Beacraft held both guns up for her inspection and she identified them for him. Kissinger told of being dispatched with Flannery at "about 4 o'clock" to meet Miss Thomas and her former husband, Forrest Reichard, Allentown, who had returned with her from that city after her meeting with Jensen.

Miss Thomas had telephoned the Warwick Educational association, was host at the open house. Henry A. Stofko, basketball coach at Warwick, headed the committee on arrangements.

Stofko also had a large part in the transformation of the combined auditorium and gymnasium, according to Carryl E. Stauffer, supervising principal of Warwick school.

Stofko worked with a group of his pupils six weeks to dress up the gymnasium in its new coat of blue and beige. A broad band of blue goes around the lower wall of the room to a height of six feet, the upper walls and ceiling being finished in soft beige. The doors have been painted cathedral red.

New backboards for the basketball hoops were installed with the aid of Luther Deitz, painter and carpenter.

THE HOME ECONOMICS room now boasts a gleaming new electric stove, a new sink and new cabinet. Fresh paint and new window blinds add to its modern appearance.

Supervising Principal Stauffer said last night's event was planned to help parents get better acquainted with the school and its teachers. Refreshments were served to the visitors by home economics pupils under the supervision of Sophie LeBaris, their teacher.

Warwick consolidated school has 340 pupils, of whom 200 are in the high school and 140 in the elementary grades.

Next event in the school's activity program is the Senior play next Thursday and Friday, titled, "The Dizzy Dillons."

Warwick's first basketball game this Winter will be played with Amityville Tuesday night.

that the troopers' weapons showed Flannery had fired three shots and Kissinger four. Before retiring the jury, Rushong told the jurors:

"These officers certainly did a good job and should be commended for their bravery."

The jurors were Smith, Oscar Frey, Raphael Horner and Joseph Thomas (no relation to Miss Thomas' father) of Norristown, Louis McQuirns, Plymouth township, and Samuel Clyde, Lansdale.

Nicholas Larzeliere, an assistant county district attorney, accompanied Devlin and Beacraft to the inquest.

Asked by the juror how many shots had been fired, he replied: "At the time I couldn't tell you, but—well, even now—." He left the sentence hanging to indicate he still did not know the number.

Devlin told Rushong then

Second Largest Corn Crop in US History, Reported by Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Agriculture department, in its semi-final report of the year, today estimated this year's corn crop at 3,302,875,000 bushels.

This would be the second largest crop of record. The estimate is 46,325,000 bushels more than the 3,256,550,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with the past year's relatively small crop of 2,941,423,000 and the ten-year (1941-50) average of 3,011,652,000.

The corn estimate compares with a Government production goal of 3,375,000,000 bushels.

No new estimate on most other crops will be made until next month, when the final report of the year is issued.

The production of other crops compared with the forecast of a month ago, production the past year and for the ten-year average, respectively, included:

Dry beans 16,655,000 bags of 100 pounds, 16,291,000, 17,446,000 and 17,997,000.
Dry peas 2,697,000 bags, 2,697,000, 3,763,000 and 6,011,000.
Soybeans for beans 289,268,000 bushels, 286,209,000, 280,512,000 and 202,068,000.

PEANUTS 1,262,820,000 pounds, 1,225,145,000, 1,675,125,000 and 2,042,448,000.
Potatoes 349,257,000 bushels, 345,561,000, 325,708,000 and 414,525,000.
Sweet potatoes 29,362,000 bushels, 29,362,000, 29,362,000 and 29,362,000.

In making new plantings of shrubs or trees around the home, grounds which are not select those which bear edible as well as ornamental fruits? Many such shrubs and small trees are beautiful when in flower and when the fruits come in the autumn you can also admire them. Then eat them in jellies, jams, preserves and marmalades. Shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, is the fruit and foliage of the Japanese plum, an ornamental small tree that is very popular with those who know it. In addition to its profusion of flowers in the spring and fruits in the fall, the Japanese plum is less liable to leaf-blight, black-knot and curculio than our domestic plums. Beach-plum, prunus maritima, illustrated, is another ornamental which bears edible fruit. It produces white or pale pink flowers in late June and bears purple fruit in September, which makes an

EXHIBIT SPACE AT FARM SHOW ALL ASSIGNED

Agriculture Department Says Space Unavailable For 58 Applicants

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14 (AP)—The State agriculture department reported today that all commercial exhibit space for the 1953 Pennsylvania farm show already has been allocated. "A total of 58 applicants for commercial exhibit space could not be accommodated due to space limitations," said Miles Horst, State agriculture secretary and chairman of the Farm Show commission. Horst said 300 exhibitors were assigned space as plans were completed for the huge exposition in the sprawling eight-acre farm show buildings, Jan. 12-16. He said half of the main exhibition floor will be occupied by the large farm machinery companies. "Space allocations reflect the importance of the type of equipment and supplies needed to operate family-size Pennsylvania farms and new labor-saving equipment being used in greatly increasing amounts," Horst said. Other allocations have been made to exhibits showing dairy and other types of barn equipment, poultry equipment, commercial feeds, fertilizers, seeds and home appliances.

Fall Is Best Time To Start Renovating Old Pasture Lands

Much land in permanent pasture has become relatively unproductive, with weedy sods. Continuous close grazing, starved grass roots, depleted fertility and an acid condition are largely responsible for the low returns obtained from such pasture land.

These old pastures can be "renovated" or improved by disking or other cultivation, by introducing legumes and adapted grasses into the sod, by the use of phosphate and potash fertilizer and by lime applications if needed. Don't worry about hurting the grass by tearing up the sod, for grasses such as blue grass and bromegrass will come back quickly and better than ever.

This procedure feeds the grass roots, results in a thick, heavy sod, and largely eliminates weeds. The growth of clover provides succulent, nutritious, palatable pasture in midsummer when bluegrass and other cool season grasses are likely to become dormant, hard and unpalatable.

Usually a good renovation job greatly increases the productivity and carrying capacity of the pastures. There are few communities in which the practicability of renovating grass pastures has not been demonstrated.

A renovation mixture widely used consists of 5 pounds of sweetclover, 3 of red clover, 2 of alsike and 1/2 pound of Ladino per acre, with 10 pounds of lespedeza also included for the more southern localities. If there is sufficient bluegrass, bromegrass or other vigorous grass remaining and properly distributed, no grass needs to be sown with the legumes.

In Iowa, renovation, including reseed and use of lime, increased the average number of pounds of beef produced per acre from 108 to 193, an increase of approximately 80 percent. This is typical of increases in other areas. The growth of legumes usually is greatly stimulated with phosphate fertilizers. One of the most striking observations is the much thicker and more vigorous growth of sweetclover on pasture receiving about 150 pounds per acre of 20 percent superphosphate in addition to lime, as contrasted with the pasture limed but not phosphated.

You can benefit from pasture renovation for several years only if you manage the grazing properly. A common fault is to graze so heavily in the second season following renovation that the biennial clovers fail to reseed.

Reseeding is essential to success and can only be accomplished through controlled grazing during those weeks when seed heads are forming.

A light thinning of the evergreen forest planting after 15 years of growth is recommended by Edward Farrand, extension forester of the Pennsylvania State College.

Officials of Clemson Agricultural college, Clemson, S. C., planning a major building program, have been studying buildings and other facilities of the School of Agriculture at the Pennsylvania State college.

Swine Diseased In Bucks County

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14 (AP)—The State Agriculture Department today reported a second outbreak in Pennsylvania of vesicular exanthema, a hog disease, has been found on a farm near Bristol, Bucks county.

Dr. H. A. Milo, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, said the diseased hogs were the first to be reported since a similar outbreak on a farm in York county, Oct. 22.

The Agriculture Department said the Bucks county farm has been put under strict quarantine to prevent the spread of the disease to other swine. Vesicular exanthema does not affect humans, the Department said.

Milo reported that laboratory and animal tests were started to day to determine if the new outbreak might be the dread foot and mouth disease, which bears similar symptoms to V. E., but is injurious to humans.

Agriculture Department agents said that about five percent of the herd of 1200 swine and 400 young pigs on the Bucks county farm is infected.

Water is essential for all life processes.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

ANYDLBAAXR
L LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Licenses Revoked For 2 Area Drivers; 13 Are Suspended

Two Pottstown area women motorists had their licenses revoked between Oct. 20 and 31, it was announced yesterday by the State Bureau of Highway Safety.

Thirteen motorists had their licenses suspended during the same period, while driving privileges were restored to nine.

Revoked were the licenses of Martha Trank, 362 North Charlotte street, intoxication, and June She'a, Douglassville, permitting intoxicated person to operate car.

Suspensions went to Maurice R. Weidenbaugh, Royersford RD; Ross Williams, 997 South Hills boulevard; Samuel A. Young Jr., Douglassville; John Hakan, Pottstown RD 1; Lloyd B. Gilbert, all speeding, defense submitted.

ELMER C. REINHART, 142 Franklin street; Dorothy Keifrieder, Earlville; Charles Bernert, Birdsboro RD 2, also speeding, defense submitted.

Walter F. Hohl, Pottstown RD 1, speeding, no defense submitted; Wellington S. Herb, Spring City RD; Stephen Leskovic Jr., 540 Heckle avenue, Spring City; Virginia J. Harris, 724 North Charlotte street, and Joseph Ramsey, Stonersville, failure to post security (as of time of suspension).

Clarence Dierolf, Linfield, failure to maintain proof of financial responsibility; Willie C. Stone, Glen Moore RD 1, reckless driving; John T. Loomis, Glen Moore RD 1, failure to take special examination.

Restorations went to George Gifford Cook, Pottstown RD 3; Kenneth L. Edgar, Schwenksville RD 1; Thomas O'Connor, Arch and Cedar streets, Spring City; James McCarthy, Gilbertsville; Rufus Schenley, 216 North Reading avenue, Boyertown; George C. Smith, 1617 Main street, Trappe.

Also restored: Charles R. Lawrence, Elverson RD 1; George W. Bricker, Collegeville RD 1; Charles Mest, Pottstown RD 4.

is discharged, is to settle down and raise a family.

"Edward enlisted," Mrs. McClintock said, "because he wanted to do his part before he got married and started a family."

The Pottstown infantryman is planning to announce his engagement soon to Teresa Brower, a Chester county girl, his mother said.

McCLINTOCK is a member of Emmanuel Lutheran church. His younger brother, Robert, 14, who is attending the Junior High school, is an altar boy at Emmanuel church.

McClintock recently sent a letter to the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of the church. In it he said he just had joined his present outfit which was being filled with replacements to make up for the heavy losses the division had suffered.

The letter said in part: "I received the church bulletin... and it feels good to know that the people back home have not forgotten the boys in Korea."

He also expressed sympathy for the Koreans, who, he wrote, have nothing left. He said that more than a million persons were trying to find shelter where there was room for fewer than half of them. McClintock went on to say that the South Koreans do not have enough food or clothing for the coming winter.

The letter was posted to the Rev. Krouse on Oct. 19. It took about two weeks to reach the pastor.

winner of the civilian balloting by six votes.

A FEW DAYS after election day, an auditing of the tabulations revealed errors which finally gave Jones more than 100 votes better than the Democratic candidate.

In the counting of military ballots yesterday, 108 were cast for Jones and 42 for Quarry. This gives Jones the edge whether or not the first or second count of civilian votes is used in the final tabulations.

AIRPORT PLANS

gets the green light from the borough and providing the conditions are favorable, was not positive how long the lease should run.

One brief flareup between Kohler and J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward, preceded an hour of calm and compliments.

Kohler, grinning but angry, shouted, "What do you think will improve the airport? There is a lot of taxpayer money in there now."

Knause snapped, "What do you mean? There's none of our taxpayers' money in there now."

Kohler charged, "There's some government pays for everything."

LATER DEMOCRAT KOHLER and Republican Knause agreed something should be done about improving the airport.

Basco explained, "There's a wrong impression creating about a lot of the flying up there. Most of it is serious flying. Just during the last week the US Axle company used the airport to advantage and in time I believe other industries will use our facilities."

Kohler asked, "Do you think Pottstown is entitled to a busy airport, especially where you realize we are located between two large cities like Philadelphia and Reading?"

Basco asserted, "I'm not much of a military man, but I know the Government favors small airports near the large cities. In the event of war it would be the small airports which would serve a vital military need. They probably would be the only airports in operation."

Kohler continued to grill Basco. "Do you think the Limerick airport which Jacobs aircraft has taken over will have any effect on operations at municipal airport?"

BASCO EXPLAINED with a shake of the head, "That's it. It will be bad if they get too much of a start on us. Originally they weren't going in for commercial craft, but I understand they've changed their attitude now."

O'Dell asked Basco to compile a list of Pennsylvania boroughs the size of Pottstown with municipal airports and submit them to Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden. He explained, "The borough manager then can write and find out what arrangements they have for operating their airports."

Gulden noted, "I don't know of another borough in the State which has an airport. It seems to me you either have to forget the airport or go in there and do something to develop it."

Kohler quickly added, "That's right. I think we've got to act one way or the other."

O'Dell L. Sears, assistant to the borough manager, said, "Well, you've got to act if you want an airport up there. That's the only way anything will be accomplished."

The committee decided to meet with Basco in several weeks to restudy the problem.

Police Urged to Adopt Crime Methods of TV

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — Police here were told today they must adopt some of the super-sleuthing methods used on TV — and radio crime shows if they want to please the modern juror.

"Modern jurors have been greatly influenced by television and radio portrayals of criminal investigations," First Assistant Circuit Attorney John Kelly said in a 13-page memo to the St. Louis police chief.

The prosecutor suggested that small flash cameras, for more photographs of crime scenes, be made standard equipment for police cars. Jurors look forward avidly to presentation of such evidence, Kelly said.

Fire Drill at School Is Done in Jig Time

In balmy weather it's good to be outdoors. That's the way pupils of Pottstown Senior High school thought yesterday when they vacated classrooms in near-record time at fire drill.

The pupils had only one complaint: The drill didn't last long enough.

The drill was one of two conducted each month. The two floors of the building were vacated in less than two minutes.

Stanley I. Davenport Jr., Senior High school principal, said "It was an orderly and well-conducted drill. We have two drills each month."

"This presents quite a problem in the winter when the children have to get their wraps."

In yesterday's drill pupils were told to get extra clothing prior to 1:45 o'clock. All windows and doors in the building were closed.

Children normally stay outside about a minute on drills.

Union Forces Smash Big Vietnam Attack

HANOI, Indochina, Nov. 14 (AP) — French Union forces smashed a strong Vietnamese attack today on the Roman Catholic city of Phat Diem, at the southeastern rim of the Red River delta's defenses. The French said this was the most important action in the delta in a year.

At the same time French infantry and armored units, pressing an offensive on north Indochina's central front between the upper Red and Clear rivers, captured the village of Phu Yen and thus severed a secondary highway supplying the Communist rebel divisions campaigning for control of the Thai region farther west.

French garrisons, warplanes and Naval assault craft joined in beating down the thrust by perhaps 3000 rebels at Phat Diem, near the Tonkin gulf 75 miles southeast of Hanoi.

French headquarters announced more than 130 of the Vietnamese were killed and scores were wounded in the attack, launched by units of the Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's 304th and 310th divisions at 3 a. m. After strong enemy infiltration of the sector, the French and their Vietnamese allies were reported to have lost 50 killed and 50 injured.

Couple Found Dead Asphyxiated by Coal Gas

SCRANTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Patrick Collins, a retired miner, and his wife, Elizabeth, were found dead this afternoon in their Carbondale home, asphyxiated by coal gas. Both were about 65.

Dr. Charles G. Speicher, a deputy county coroner, said death was caused by coal gas and estimated the couple had been dead about 18 hours. They were found in a second-floor bedroom by a nephew, James Collins, who went to his uncle's home when neighbors said they had not seen the couple for a day.

Fires in a kitchen coal range and the furnace were out so police were not certain where the poisonous fumes came from.

BOY SAVED

swimming pool, about 15 by 25 feet, made by damming a small stream, is on her and her husband's property. Nature keeps it filled the year around.

Mrs. Drumheller had been looking outside because she had been expecting her husband to come for her in their car at 10:30 o'clock, a few minutes after the boy fell in.

THE HUNTER was William Cook, 80 Warren street, who was out after small game with a friend, Lee Mauger, North Manatowyn street.

Moses, said that without the help provided by Mrs. Drumheller and Cook, her son probably would have died of drowning or exposure.

After Good Will ambulance crewmen Herbert Quinter and Edward Seeders had given the child first aid at his home and bundled him in a blanket, they drove him to Pottstown hospital.

He was brought out of shock caused by fright and the icy water. His family physician reported last night that his condition was satisfactory, although he may be kept in the hospital for several days as a precautionary measure.

The little boy, who will be 5 in February, was playing in the backyard with his 3-year-old brother, Tommy, and his 2-year-old sister, Jane.

THEIR FATHER, a night worker for Firestone Tire and Rubber company, was a sleep upstairs.

Their mother, busy with housework, did not know that the children had wandered to the pool, which is atop a walled terrace.

The little boy fell into the pool near the dam wall, where the water is about six feet deep. His little brother and sister began yelling, but from a 3-year-old and a 2-year-old, the yells of distress are hard to tell from the yells of play.

As Mrs. Drumheller put it, "They were yelling, but only the way kids do."

Then, an unknown number of minutes after the child fell in, Mrs. Drumheller looked outside, to check whether her husband had returned yet.

"I looked over at the pool," she said, "I thought they were playing with a ball. What I'd seen was his head bobbing around in the water, but I didn't realize at first that it was his head."

"And then I looked again—'Where's the other child?' I asked myself. And then I saw it was his head."

MRS. DRUMHELLER, who was wearing women's overalls and a blouse, dashed out of the house without stopping to grab a coat.

Reaching the pool, she saw the

DEER IN TOWN

partment.

They saw the two deer trotting at a polite pace down Rosedale drive, toward High street.

Boyer and Smale, who ran into the office with the news were joined quickly in looking at the sight by Jack G. O'Brien, 10 Moser road, sales manager, and Mildred Brunner, Franklin apartments, King and Franklin streets, secretary.

O'Brien, who is a deer hunter (in season), reported they were "two good-sized doe."

Miss Brunner said the doe trotted off Rosedale drive, into the yard of Edward D. Gudebrod, 17 Rosedale drive.

AFTER DISAPPEARING briefly among shrubbery, the two doe reappeared in the front of Holmes' yard and then started the trot across High street in front of Quay's car.

The deer disappeared into the yard of H. Bert Shaw, 1318 High street, heading south toward Queen street, Miss Brunner reported.

Several of the Nagle Motors employees who had seen the doe jumped into a car and made a search for them in the Queen street section, but found no trace of them.

The possibility that the two does had come south onto Rosedale drive, from Ringing Hill was raised by Price Alderfer, Pottstown RD 4, who reported to Clarence K. Fox, 769 North Charlotte street, State deputy game protector, that a doe had leaped into the hood of his car on Ringing Hill late Thursday afternoon.

He said two does had raced from his sight as he was driving down the south side of the hill to ward Pottstown. The doe that hit the hood apparently broke its leg, Alderfer said, but managed to limp away with the doe that narrowly missed hitting the hood.

ALDERFER DID not lose control of his car, but it was damaged.

Earlier Thursday Eugene Orlander, Ringing Hill, Pottstown RD 4, had seen four doe sleeping near his property.

When he approached, they bounded away.

Hunters among the men who saw the doe expressed the opinion that all the deer in the section had been frightened into runs from their normal haunts by the bang-bang of the small game season.

The deer don't know that the hunters won't be hunting for them until next month.

Fox asked that anyone seeing a doe that is hopelessly crippled, as the one that hit Alderfer's car probably is, report it to him so he can destroy it.

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

The Christmas season is rolling around, for it's only six weeks 'til the holidays. And next Tuesday we start another $1,000 Christmas Give-away. This is the ninth year we are conducting this drawing and each year we seem to have more success with it. This success we attribute to only one thing—it's a genuine drawing with no strings attached. This Christmas Eve 11 lucky people will receive valuable gifts of jewelry absolutely free.

Here is how the drawing works. Just stop in to our store anytime beginning next Tuesday and receive a ticket. Half is to be deposited in our Christmas box, the other half you keep. Then for every dollar's worth of merchandise you buy, you receive another ticket. You probably intend to buy gifts anyway, so you might as well buy them at our store and receive those extra lucky tickets. Then Christmas Eve, a customer will pull 11 numbers from the box. Those 11 numbers will be published in The Mercury and here is what those lucky ticket holders will receive:

- $250.00 Lady's Diamond Watch
- $160.00 Ladies' Diamond Watch
- $155.00 Man's Gold Watch
- $100.00 Man's Gold Watch
- $75.00 Set Glassware
- $65.00 Chime Clock
- $60.00 Pin and Earring Set
- $40.00 Pearls
- $35.00 Pearls
- $30.00 Cigar Case
- $30.00 Pen Set

$1000.00 Value

Now we have a very definite reason for conducting this drawing. We believe it ethically gives people a better reason for stopping into our store, and it gives customers a chance to win a valuable gift without risking any of their hard-earned money. Many jewelry items are sold practically everywhere and it seems like good common sense for people to shop our store this Christmas when they know that they will receive the utmost value in jewelry and, in addition, they'll get a chance to receive valuable prizes.

We hope to see you this season, and remember, all gifts are either machine or hand engraved free, while you wait, if necessary.

See you next Saturday,
